MANY VOTERS HEAR PREMIER DURING TOUR

Dr. MacLean Addresses Large Election Meeting at Golden; Buckham Speaks

Premier Explains Position of B.C. Finances to Interested Audience

Golden, B.C., June 26—His tour of this part of the Province brought Premier J. D. MacLean last night to Golden, where he addressed a large audience which had gathered to hear him and J. A. Buckham, who was Speaker of the last Legislature and is again the Liberal candidate in the constituency of Columbia.

Premier MacLean, who was heard with the closest attention and given a prolonged ovation at the close of his address, devoted his speech chiefly to the finances of the Province.

Speaking of the public debt of British Columbia the Premier said:

"We have paid out of provincial revenue to the municipalities more than $30,000,000 in the last ten years. Had we not done so, the gross debt of the province would have been $50,000,000 instead of $80,000,000."

ROADS BUILT

New roads in the last ten years, said the Premier, accounted for $17,000,000 of the increase in the debt of the Province. The uncompleted Pacific Great Eastern Railway, left as legacy by the McBride-Bowser administration, accounted for another $13,000,000. Capital expenditure on other accounts such as hospitals, schools, aid to the irrigationists of the dry belt and the Tranquille Sanitorium had absorbed more millions. The Sumas reclamation scheme had re-

The award committee has worked in conjunction with the body looking after the celebration, and the presentation will be a part of the scheduled ceremony which will take place there.

A large number of nominations have been received by the committee.

SOOKE GREETS MRS. M. E. SMITH

Liberal Candidate and Other Speakers Given Enthusiastic Reception

A most successful meeting in the interests of Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal candidate for the Esquimalt riding, was held in the East Sooke schoolhouse last night, when residents of the district turned out in force. Mrs. J. Pilgrim, president of the Esquimalt District Liberal Association, presided.

A. T. Weight briefly outlined the progress that was being made in the Liberal campaign in Esquimalt, showing that Mrs. Smith was waging a winning campaign and making a splendid impression in every section of the riding.

The dumping question, which had been much to the fore in the present campaign was dealt with by David Ramsay, president of the Saanich Liberal Association. Mr. Ramsay observed that this was Conservative propaganda and had been projected into the provincial campaign by them, whereas it was a Dominion issue solely.

WITH PRODUCERS

The only parties able to remedy this alleged grievance were the Dominion parties. The Provincial Liberal Party, Mr. Ramsay declared, was fully in sympathy with the producers, and he felt

BISHOP NAMED AS MANAGER OF CITY CAMPAIGN

Will Handle Fight For Liberal Candidates in Victoria Riding

Nominees to Speak at Series of Meetings, With Two Big Rallies

Charles R. Bishop, Secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association, and manager of the firm of Bishop and Worthington, will manage the Liberal Party's campaign in Victoria, it was announced to-day.

Taking hold of campaign plans for the party here, Mr. Bishop immediately began to arrange a series of meetings to be addressed by W. T. Straith, Mark Graham and Alderman Robert Dewar, three of the Liberal candidates in Victoria, Premier MacLean, who heads the ticket, being out of the city at present.

TO COVER CITY

The candidates will cover the city by district meetings, Mr. Bishop said, and in addition two large rallies will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre, one on July 10 and the other on the night of July 17, the eve of the provincial poll. At the first meeting Hon. Dugald Donaghy, Minister of Finance, will be the chief speaker, while the Premier will return here from the interior to address the election eve rally. The first of the city meetings will be held in Stanley Hall, Victoria West, on Thursday evening, when Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith will speak with the candidates.

CAMPAIGN SPEEDS UP

Meanwhile the election campaign is speeding up all over the Province. Premier MacLean is in the Kootenay District, while Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative leader, tours the North. Cabinet Ministers are scattered all over the Province now. Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, being the last to leave the Capital. He went to Nanaimo to-day to speak there this evening with George C. Pearson, the Liberal candidate.

Liberals of Ward One, Victoria, will hold their regular meeting in the Liberal Headquarters on Wednesday evening when Dr. Lewis Hall will speak.

Saanich Conservatives will hold a meeting in Marigold Hall to-night, when T. G. Coventry, Capt. Thain and Miss Lottie Bowron will speak. On Friday, Colonel A. W. Woods, President of the Saanich Conservative Association, Mr. Coventry, C. F. Davie of Duncan, and H. D. Twigg of Victoria will speak at St. Mark's Hall, Saanich.

INJUNCTION IN BREWERY CASE

No Major Changes in Nanaimo Breweries Ltd. Till Trial of Action Completed

Vancouver, June 26.—Arising out of the sale of a seventy per cent interest in the Nanaimo Breweries Limited of Nanaimo, an injunction was granted today in the Supreme Court here by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald on the application of John H. Patterson, Andrew R. Robertson and Rudolph Samet of Vancouver.

Four defendants, August Hasenfratz of Vancouver, Albert Juriet of Ladysmith, Charles William O'Neill of Duncan and M. S. Inglis of Victoria, have been restrained until the trial of the action from acting as directors of the Nanaimo Breweries Limited. The company and J. Islay Mutter of Duncan and the other defendants have been enjoined from issuing Nanaimo Breweries shares.

The plaintiffs allege the defendants proposed to allot 12,000 shares of the par value of $1 each in Nanaimo Breweries to Mutter, and 10,000 similar shares to Hasenfratz. The issue, it was said, was in satisfaction of alleged claims for services as directors. This claim is disputed by the plaintiffs, who have acquired seventy per cent of the Nanaimo Breweries stock. They contend the proposed share issue would be a fraud on the company and its shareholders.

NO CITY MANAGER PLAN FOR VICTORIA RULES CITY COUNCIL

A modified form of the city manager plan, proposed by Alderman William Marchant in connection with the report of the civic service committee, was swept overboard at the regular City Council meeting last night. Mr. Marchant proposed that the city comptroller be appointed a city manager in full control of all departments. After considerable debate the plan was thrown out, and the work of coordination of the various departments left under the direction of Mayor J. C. Pendray. In a one-and-a-half-hour debate on the remaining sections of the committee's report the council made progress and sent the draft to the city solicitor for the preparation of a by-law. This by-law would establish civic employment on a graded scale in respect to salary and duties, with maximum and minimum allowances, annual rates of increase and other factors comparative to civil service schedules. The council also agreed to bring city outside employees under the Provincial Superannuation Act, on July 1, or as soon thereafter as possible.

Plane Is Tuned Up For Thea Rasche's Sea Hop

The pictures above give a glimpse of Miss Rasche and a test pilot aboard her monoplane, and the plane itself at rest.

Grand Mere, Que., June 26.—Miss Thea Rasche, German aviatrix, who will attempt a transatlantic flight from Cap de la Madeleine, on the St. Lawrence, to Eurape, probably Berlin, in a Bellanca monoplane, to-day was resting here in preparation for the flight. It is understood the flight will not be started until the arrival of Mrs. James Stillman, wife of the New York Banker, who is sponsor of the venture. Mrs. Stillman was in New York to-day.

PLANE GROOMED IN QUEBEC

Cap de la Madeleine, Que., June 26.—As a preliminary to the second attempt at a transatlantic eastward flight in 1928, Miss Thea Rasche's monoplane, The North Star, was being groomed here to-day for its task, which probably will not start for several days. Definite announcement is expected later as to whether the flight will be a nonstop one to Europe or whether refueling will be done at the airport at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

The plane is equipped with a 200-horsepower Wright Whirlwind Motor. It is thought only two persons will make the flight from here. Miss Rasche will be accompanied by A. Koenemann. Both are experienced pilots and would relieve each other on the flight.

NO ACTION ON CREMATORIUM

Site at Ross Bay Might Be Out of Place, Warn Solicitors

The question of a crematorium at Ross Bay was virtually abandoned by the City Council last night, following a legal opinion by R. T. Elliott, K.C., that the city would be unwise to take any action in endorsing the site for that use until the legal statute of the cemetery lands had been more clearly determined.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, endorsed the request, asking time to review the issue at first hand.

Alderman William Marchant again proposed Royal Oak Burial Park as the logical site of the crematorium, and stated the Royal Oak committee to be anxious for the inclusion of some such provision at that site. In the face of obvious dissension as to the use of Ross Bay for the purpose, the Cremation Society would do well to bow to public opinion and place the crematorium where it was actively wanted.

Alderman E. S. Woodward taunted the council with secretiveness, in that a report had been prepared by the Ross Bay Cemetery committee which advised against the use of that site, and yet the report had not been laid before two members of that committee, nor the council, he said. If the council were not going to support his motion to permit the crematorium at Ross Bay it should at least say so, so that the society could see what legal remedies it would have in that position.

Alderman John Worthington moved to table the issue for a week. This course was seconded by Alderman James Adam and carried.

AMBASSADOR REPORT DENIED

Tokio, June 26.—The report printed by a Japanese newspaper in Honolulu that Vice-Foreign Minister De Buchi had been named Ambassador to the United States to succeed Tsuneo Matsudaira, was declared to be untrue in official circles here to-day.

LITTLE JOE

DECORATED CAR PARADE PLANNED

Carnival Spirit Will Be Created For Dominion Day Holiday

In an effort to create a carnival spirit on Saturday, the first day of the Dominion Day celebration, arrangements are now under way for a parade in the evening composed of decorated and illuminated cars, and comic bands.

The hour suggested for this feature is 9 o'clock. The burlesque musicians will play at different corners of the streets in the down town section, following the parade. Three prizes for the bands and the cars are to be presented by the Dominion Day celebration committee. Those wishing to enter the parade are asked to communicate with S. Thomas, care of The Daily Colonist.

At a meeting of the committee held in the Sons of Canada Hall last night, it was decided to include a monster fireworks display on the programme of events for Monday, July 2. This is to be carried out from a raft in the inner harbor at 9 o'clock. The announcement will meet with favor from the children and grown-ups.

Arrangements for the musical service which will be held at the Arena on Sunday at 3 o'clock are now well in hand. The choristers have been practising for the event, which promises to be a treat for all music lovers. No charge is being made for admission, but in an effort to defray expenses a silver collection will be taken. Programmes with full details of the celebration will be sold at the service for a nominal fee. Mayor Pendray will officially open the service.

Monday evening, on the steps of the Parliament Buildings, Albert Sullivan, Provincial High School Inspector, will give an address on "Canada." This event will open at 8 o'clock with "O Canada," following which the appreciation medal will be presented to the best citizen.

The curtain will ring down on the three-day celebration with a serpentine dance at the Crystal Garden from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Two first-class orchestras will play for dancing on both ends of the popular amusement centre. Novel and interesting features will be presented. Tickets for the dance are on sale at the Crystal Garden.

TwoCandidates Speak At Sidney

M. B. Jackson, K.C., Liberal candidate for the the Islands, will speak at Sidney to-night at St. Matthew's Hall. He will be supported by Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal candidate for Esquimalt who will also speak.

CITY ASKED TO FINANCE FILM PLAN

By-law Calling For $50,000 Backing of Pacific Pictures Limited Being Prepared

Details of Measure to Be Disclosed to Council on Friday at Special Meeting

Details of the "Pacific Pictures Limited Agreement By-law," mentioned at the City Council meeting last night were learned to-day to include a proposed loan of $50,000 to the film interests for the production of the first picture. The money, it is proposed, would be raised by the city on the issue of bonds, and would carry interest at six per cent.

As security for the loan, the title of the first picture would become the property of the city, with the recovery of its money with interest of the first production was a success. These are the details that it is believed the city industrial committee has placed in the form of a draft to be put in by-law form, and a revelation of which was refused last night at the council meeting.

PREPARE BY-LAW

The by-law is to be prepared in its preliminary form, for consideration by the council as a whole on Friday at 4 p.m., when a special meeting will be convened. If the by-law secured a council majority it would be put to the ratepayers at an early date. Provision has been made for ten days' notice of the measure in which its terms would be published by advertisement, to comply with statutory requirements on money by-laws, it is understood.

In reply to questions put by Alderman J. L. Mara at the council meeting last night, it was revealed that some form of civic aid to the motion picture was contemplated. What form this aid would take was not revealed at the time, and will not be formally known by the council as a whole until the by-law draft is placed in front of the meeting on Friday. The plan is one prepared by Mayor J. C. Pendray and members of the industrial committee, it is understood, in an effort to induce Alfred Hustwick and associates to change their mind about leaving Victoria.

DECISION CHANGED

When he first came to the city Mr. Hustwick made it clear he did not propose to accept any form of civic aid in the financing of his project, but failure of the negotiations to secure finanical support by other means has led to a change of that decision, it is inferred.

Mr. Hustwick is understood to have left the city for Hollywood last night, but Moresby White, associated with him in the venture, has remained behind, and it is with Mr. White that negotiations are now to be carried on, it is understood.

CHILD TRAVELER INJURES WOMAN

Portland, Ore., June 26.—Mrs. F. Levine, sixty, of Winnipeg, was in a hospital here to-day with an injury to her side suffered when a youngster occupying an upper berth in a northbound train from California accidentally jumped upon her as he tumbled from his berth.

BAPTIST UNION PLAN ADOPTED

Young People's Group Becomes Part of Baptist World Alliance

Toronto, June 26.—At a meeting of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of the World here this afternoon, the Union voted to end its separate existence and become a part of the Baptist World Alliance.

Rev. J. A. White, of Berkeley, Cal., who presided, explained the executive had felt the need of close association with the Alliance. The Union will become the young peoples' committee of the larger body, with representation on the executive.

QUESTION OF UNION

Toronto, June 26.—The Baptist attitude toward church union was given a clear exposition at this forenoon's session of the Baptist World Alliance here in an address by Dr. George P. Patterson, president of Acadia University, Wolfeville, N.S.

"The common heritage of Protestantism must be preserved for the world," he declared. "Even though the distinctive tenets of Baptists be lost."

AUTO FALLS OVER BANK BUT DRIVER ESCAPES UNHURT

Vancouver, June 26.—B. F. Andrews, Vancouver real estate man, had a miraculous escape from injury last night when his automobile plunged 150 feet over the embankment on Marine Drive south of the Point Grey wireless station.

The car's descent was stopped by a small tree, against which it lodged after it had turned two somersaults. Mr. Andrews was able to get out of the wrecked car and climb back to the highway.

Steamer Searches Arctic Sea For Amundsen and Others of His Plane Party

Norwegian Government Steamship Michael Sars Fails to Find Trace East of Bear Island and Starts to Hunt West of Island; Private Interests in Norway Prepare to Send Another Ship to Search for Six Men

Oslo, Norway, June 26.—Having completed a search of Barentz Sea to the east of Bear Island without finding any trace of Capt. Roald Amundsen and the five others missing with him in a French seaplane, the Norwegian Government steamer Michael Sars to-day turned toward the region west of the island, which lies between the Spitzbergen group and Norway.

The Amundsen plane was believed to be in the vicinity of Bear Island when the last signals were heard from it, a few hours after the fliers had hopped off from Tromsoe on June 18 to join in the Nobile rescue work.

The captain of the sealing ship Hobby has arrived at Tromsoe from Spitzbergen. He felt no alarm for the safety of Capt. Amundsen and his companions. He thought that if the plane had passed Bear Island, it probably had landed on the ice.

Advices from Tromsoe, however, revealed that Capt. Rene Guilbaud, the pilot, had declared before setting out that it would be difficult for the airmen to save themselves if they should be forced down in a rough sea.

PLANE FAILS

Major Penzo, Italian flier, who conducted an unsuccessful search by aeroplane for the Amundsen party, arrived at Tromsoe this morning in his plane, the Marina, from Bergen. He had to descend to Bodeo during the night to refuel.

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 26.—Private concerns in Norway are preparing to send a small Arctic ship to search for Capt. Roald Amundsen, lost with five companions in a French seaplane.

The ship, which is now lying at Alesun, Norway, will seek them between the Norwegian coast and the eastern part of the Spitzbergen Island group.

The search party probably will include the Arctic explorer Capt. Otto Sverdrup and Major Tryggeve, who was a member of Capt. Scott's Antarctic expedition.

SENATOR JAMES A. REED

of Missouri, who is leading his forces in the fight to secure for himself the nomination for the Presidency of the United States at the Democratic Party convention in Houston, Texas. The men of the other chief camp say Governor Al Smith of New York will be nominated soon after the balloting begins on Thursday.

HOUSTON TEST STARTS TO-DAY

First Session of U.S. Democratic Convention Brief; Smith Leads

Houston, Texas, June 26.—A Democratic National Convention whose major decisions were all but made before it ever convened began here today with an opening session so brief that it was over before the delegates got settled in their seats. Leaving the keynote speech, the usual magnet of opening day interest, for an evening session, the convention merely went through the motion of getting itself legally afoot and then recessed until 7.30 p.m.

SMITH LEADS

Houston, Texas, June 26.—The first Democratic National Convention to assemble in the Democratic South since the Civil War was called together in Sam Houston Hall here to-day with East and West pledged to nominate Governor Al Smith of New York for the Presidency of the United States and most of the South itself dissenting. A final period of pre-convention argument and caucussing served only to accentuate the dominating position of Smith and the protest of many Southern communities against his nomination.

Smith enters the convention with first ballot votes definitely in line for

Straith, Mark Graham and Robert Dewar, meeting at 8 o'clock. THREAT IS MADE AS SHIP SAILS

Engine Room Men Say They Will Hold Up Ss. Jervis Bay in Indian Ocean

Colombo, Ceylon, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—The troubles of Captain Daniels of the Australian liner Jervis Bay, who had his hands full on the voyage from Fremantle, Australia, to Colombo with eight rebellious stowaways, apparently were not ended with the court sentence of five and a half months imposed on the stowaways here yesterday.

As the Jervis Bay prepared to leave Colombo late last night a delegate from the Engine Room Workers' Union approached Captain Daniels on the bridge and said: "We won't take the ship to sea."

It was alleged Captain Daniels ordered the delegates off the bridge, but the latter protested they had approached the captain in a perfectly constitutional fashion. The captain then ordered them aft off the bridge and the leader of the delegation said he would deal with him as soon as the ship cleared port.

There was no further trouble and the Jervis Bay departed at midnight.

LORD PLUMER TO LEAVE PALESTINE

Reported British Government Soon Will Appoint New High Commissioner

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—Field Marsall Lord Plumer will shortly vacate the post of High Commissioner of Palestine, which he has held since 1925.

The Jerusalem correspondent, of The London Daily Express, says the reirement will be brought about by Lord Plumer's differences with the British Colonial Office over the division of the cost of the Transjordian force as between the British exchequer and Palestine, Palestine having already a budget deficit of $5,000,000.

Lord Plumer commanded the Second Army during some of the most important operations of the Belgian front in the World War, in some of which the Canadiain forces took part. He was specially mentioned for good work in connection with railway and forestry battalions. Lord Plumer had Canadians constantly with him during the war and he also commanded men from the Dominions in the South African War. He is now seventy-one years of age.

Parachute Plan For Camp On Ice In the Arctic

Stockholm, Sweden, June 26.—An attempt to drop by parachute from an aeroplane on the ice floe on which four members of the Nobile party are marooned near Foyl Island, in the Spitzbergen group, was in prospect to-day.

Messages from Spitzbergen said a Swedish mechanic desired to make the descent in order to aid Lieut. Lundborg, who was marooned with the Nobile party Sunday when his plane overturned in rescue work. The mechanic believed he could aid Lundborg in repairing the machine and thus help in getting the others off the ice.

Preparations were completed in Sweden to send another Fokker plane to Spitzbergen. A De Haviland Moth plane also will be sent. The new expedition will be fitted out with a view to making landings on small areas of ice.

WATER SUPPLY IS INTERRUPTED

Residents of South Burnaby Depend on Emergency Measures Till Main Repaired

Burnaby, June 26—Residents of South Burnaby were practically cut off from their water supply yesterday afternoon owing to lead joints or collars on the old eighteen-inch main, which runs from North Burnaby, having given way on several sections of pipe.

Many houses were without water this morning.

Twenty workmen were rushed to the job and worked all night. They were relieved by another gang this morning and the repair job probably will be completed early this evening.

Reeve A. K. MacLean stated to-day the district was being supplied as well as possible from the reserve tank at Patterson, where a pump is used to increase the pressure.

INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS IN MANITOBA USES PLANE

Winnipeg, June 26.—Indian boys and girls, living far away from civilization in the wooded settlements of northern Manitoba, got a thrill recently when the school inspector, making his annual tour, zoomed down from the sky in an aeroplane.

It was the first time in the history of Manitoba that a plane was used for school inspection work, and J. E. S. Dunlop of Winnipeg was the inspector who used the new mode of travel, which is becoming increasingly popular for traveling in the north country. Instead of the arduous canoe journey, Inspector Dunlop made his tour this year with comfort and did his work in two weeks as compared with six weeks in previous years.

Inspector Dunlop visited Indian and provincial schools in the Berens River district, at Norway House, which is 300 miles north of Winnipeg, and numerous other points remote from modern highways.

SHIP SEARCHES FOR ATLANTIS

The expedition's ship, named the Atlantis, was designed by Columbus O. Iselin of New York, captain of the expedition, and is equipped with machinery invented by him, which is expected to dredge the ocean bottom at a depth of three miles.

Ottawa Far Behind West In Social Legislation

(From Vancouver Daily Province)

"HELLO there, Ottawa; get on with your job."

This is, in effect what British Columbia has been saying to the Parliament of Canada since the Great War.

Has it ever occured to the average citizen of Vancouver, or any other part of the Province, for that matter, to reflect on the stand British Columbia has taken since the war, in initiating legislation in the Dominion of Canada for the amelioration of the social conditions of the people? To ask himself whether any other province has given the lead to Ottawa in equal measure?

The eight-hour day first saw legislative enactment in British Columbia. So did the minimum wage law. So did the principle of conciliation, in the arbitration of industrial disputes. The projected extension of the minimum wage to all industry in British Columbia will be blazing a new trail in social legislation in Canada. The old-age pension emanated in British Columbia, and the legislators and the people of this Province are not, by any means, satisfied with the present old-age pension law, which represents but half the loaf, compared with their ideal. The proposed introduction of health insurance legislation, on which a special committee of the Legislature is at present working, will be a fitting culmination of social laws, in the betterment of the life condition of the people, which other provinces and the Federal legislative authority at Ottawa have only been pleased to emulate.

RESULT OF POST-WAR SOCIAL UNREST

A diverting and comforting lesson may be taken from British Columbia's determination to make conditions so congenial to her people. Taken as a composite whole, partly agricultural, partly manufacturing, partly tourist-attracting, British Columbia has assumed features that apply to provinces whose major activity is either of the three. And, in looking ahead to the days—not far ahead, in the view of the world authorities—when the Province will number its population by the millions, British Columbia has shown far more statesmanship in anticipating her social problem. When the new Birmingham or Liverpool of the Pacific Coast is showing its greatest activity, twenty or thirty years hence, the social problem of the newest of the world cities will long since have been solved.

MRS. MARY ELLEN SMITH

Ardent supporter of social legislation in British Columbia

HON. A. M. MANSON

Attorney-General and Minister of Labor

The proof of the statesmanship and the efficacy of these social experiments in which British Columbia is indulging will be amply displayed in the analysis in the years of the immediate future of the exodus of Canadians to the United States. The economist and statistician will have a pleasing duty to record that the post-war social legislation of the Pacific Province will be a potent factor in retaining to the Province so many hundreds or thousands each year, with the resultant capital gain to the community. For, let the fact not be overlooked by would-be emigrants to the south, that no state of the Union, nor the Federal authority at Washington can boast the same record in social legislation as has been enacted in British Columbia.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC STILL TO FOLLOW

A critic recently observed that the East looks after its industries first and its people next. An American writer, whose daily circle of readers runs into many millions, observed, in reflecting on advanced social legislation, that such experiments would not be practical in the United States until public corporations ceased to be the basic interest of legislation. There may be a good deal of truth in both observations, but the chronicler of contemporary events would not require to be too honest to admit that British Columbia's paramount interest is her people, and their chances of emancipating themselves from the social evils that have attended high-power massed production and intensified industrial activity in the leading cities of our great neighbor.

For twenty-eight years of the new century, the United States has had intermittent discussions on the need for national old-age pensions. Philadelphia has broken much ground for the states in research work, pointing to the desirability of introducing some national system. The State of Montana is the only one that has legislated in that direction. A national committee in Philadelphia, two years ago, gave an opinion that the multiplicity of industrial benefit systems only made the need for national old-age pensions more imperative. That is as far as the campaign has reached, but the problem does not recede in public significance in the light of the assertion that, of the people in the United States over sixty-five years, 6,000,000 are in actual want.

The three prairie provinces have followed the lead of British Columbia in legislating for old-age pensions within a year past. The adoption of the measure by the provinces contiguous to the Northwest Territories brings that part of Canada under the scheme. The whole of Western Canada will, within the next few months, be paying old-age pensions, under the Federal and provincial agreement, by which Ottawa pays half the cost of a dollar-a-day pension for those over seventy.

The Maritimes have been looking closely into old-age pensions. It is only a matter of a short time before they, too, will decide to share in granting the benefit to the old folks that British Columbia pioneered, leaving the older provinces of Ontario and Quebec without the fold voluntarily. How long will they stay out? The question will decide itself, apart from the desire of Ontario people to enjoy these benefits, for each of the older provinces will be called upon to contribute, through the Federal revenue, to old-age pensions which their own people are not enjoying. Money talks, and it is a safe forecast that the next three years will see the present scheme of old-age pensions become Dominion-wide.

British Columbia is not at all satfied with the present scheme, but is prepared to stay her demand for improvement while other provinces are paying tribute to her statesmanship by embracing what the present agreement offers. How long the Pacific Province will wait, however, it is not safe to forecast, for she is determined that in its two most important phases of good, the present agreement is lacking. The age limit will be reduced from seventy to sixty-five years before British Columbia will be satisfied, and the whole financial obligation of old-age pensions will be taken over by the Federal authority at Ottawa before she will agree that her duty has been fully done by those who endured hardness and privation in their pioneering days to build up the Province to its present state of economic prosperity.

The age of sixty-five has been accepted, thirty years ago, by Australia and New Zealand as the limit for paying old-age pensions, and British Columbia aims to accept the same standard. If Australia and New Zealand went bankrupt to-morrow, they would not blame the fact that they paid old-age pensions from sixty-five, or that, in the case of Australia, the cost has been borne from Federal revenue exclusively since the inception of the Commonwealth twenty-eight years ago. Questions of finance weighed with Ottawa, when it was decided that the provinces should bear half the expense.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

When the question of granting old-age pensions first came into the arena of Federal discussion, The Vancouver Province enunciated the doctrine that citizenship was a Canadian commodity more than it was the exclusive attribute of the Province, and that, therefore, old-age pensions should be a Federal obligation, with the accepted safeguard that the provinces contribute their share to all Federal expenditure. This view was not accepted at Ottawa. Political expediency gave British Columbia the alternative of paying half cost of old-age pensions or getting no pension at all. British Columbia wisely chose the half loaf, and her old folks now, for the best part of a year, have been drawing useful sustenance from that half loaf. The only criticism of the scheme voiced in the press of British Columbia is the criticism that the act does not go far enough in a worthy cause, and that the age should be reduced to sixty-five years and the whole cost borne by Ottawa.

"Hello, there, Ottawa, get on with your job!"

HOUSE COMMITTEE STILL INVESTIGATING

Just what the old-age pension has done in bringing happiness to the old folks, health insurance, now being investigated by British Columbia, through a legislative committee, will do for the whole community. As its name signifies, health insurance ramifies out into every phase of the community's activity. Many schemes have been canvassed by authorities in England and on the Continent. Germany has already adopted a measure of health insurance by statute, and the experiment is being eagerly watched. Critics of it are not very harsh, although some condemn it as state Socialism. But old-age pensions are state Socialism, and the Red terror has not yet made itself manifest, after many years of operation in the Antipodes. There is no Red terror in New Zealand. There is a Red terror in Australia, but none attributes its activities to old-age pensions. It is too early even to forecast what measure of health insurance British Columbia would adopt, but that she will adopt it is already assured, from the reception the scheme has already been given by public bodies in the Province. Once more, British Columbia will put it right up to Ottawa, and, political expedient aside, Ottawa will get on with the job, for Ottawa knows that the safest judgment on the welfare of the people has been found in the past in the statesmanship of British Columbia.

KANSAS PARTY TO VISIT VICTORIA

Jasper, Alta., June 26.—After spending two days at Jasper Park Lodge, arranging for the visit in August of 300 Jayhawkers of Kansas, F. L. Rockenhull and James R. Rankin of Topeka decided the time previously alloted to Jasper National Park in the tour would be too short, and they are going home with the intention of changing the itinerary.

"Kansas people," said Mr. Rockenhull, who is a director of tours for the Capper Publications, "are great travelers, but they don't know always where and how to go. The object of this tour, which was arranged by the Canadian National Railways, the Great Northern, the Chicago Great Western and the Capper Publications, is to help them. With 800 inquiries almost immediately after we announced the tour we had no difficulty in getting 300 actually to join, and next year we expect to have to split the party into two or three."

The Jayhawkers are chiefly farmers, with a sprinkling of business men from the smaller towns of Kansas, and after several years of good crops they are ready for a holiday out of the ordinary, according to Mr. Rankin, who has charge of advertising. The special train will leave Kansas City August 5, proceeding by way of St. Paul and Minneapolis to Glacier Park, thence to Seattle. From Victoria the travelers will go to Vancouver, which they will reach about August 13, and on August 14 they will journey by Canadian National to Mount Robson and Jasper. The journey from here will take in Edmonton and possibly Saskatoon, and the Jayhawkers expect to leave Winnipeg for St. Paul on August 17.

VOTE ON BUSES TO BE HELD IN SAANICH

Council Approves 20-Year Franchise to J. S. H. Matson

Award to J. S. H. Matson of an exclusive franchise, to operate passenger transportation services in Saanich, was last night approved by the Saanich Council.. A by-law incorporating an agreement with Mr. Matson was put through preliminary readings, and will be submitted to the ratepayers of the municipality for approval at a poll to be taken on Saturday, July 14.

H. B. Olson, managing director of the Gray Line, was in attendance and submitted a bid of $20,000 for the exclusive running rights over the East Saanich Road, to be paid in annual instalments of $1,000. The offer was refused consideration by Reeve Crouch, who read the letter when Councillor Hagan mentioned the bid, the Reeve being supported when he said: "I do not see how we can keep dickering every time we get a raised offer."

OBJECTS TO TWENTY YEARS

When the by-law was introduced Councillor Hagan objected to the term of twenty years, believing such a period too long to bind the municipality to one type of transportation system. He believed the franchise would prove the greatest asset of the operating company, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, the equipment cost being negligible in comparison.

Councillor Stubbs pointed out that probably fifteen years must pass before the bus service will have turned around finanically, and that investment of $500,000 in equipment could not be obtained on any shorter franchise term.

Councillor Hagan objected that the agreement said nothing as to the investment to be made in equipment, and remarked "in twenty years they may be shooting people out here in tubes."

Councillor Watson pointed out that the council was not tying Saanich up to anything. Councillor Stubbs interjected: "Let us hear some sane suggestions," and Councillor Eden pointed out that the franchise was a matter for the ratepayers, who would show by vote if they disapprove of a twenty-year franchise.

The agreement provides for assumption by Saanich of the bus system at the termination of the franchise, the price to be struck by appraisers. Should the municipality not desire to purchase, the franchise continues, being terminable thereafter upon giving the operators five years' notice.

Councillor Hagan objected to this provision and aroused the ire of Reeve Crouch. "We worked hard and long on this agreement, Councillor Hagan. You are a member of the transportation committee, but you did not aid in any way in drawing this contract. Why?" asked the Reeve, Councillor Hagan retorting, "Because I did not think it any good."

OPPORTUNITY TO VOTE

The agreement provides for the purchase of the municipal bus system serving Lake Hill, and this again brought criticism from Councillor Hagan. He considered that the council had already sold that route and received the cash. Councillor Borden explained that inclusion of the sale in the by-law had been made to give the people an opportuinty to vote on the matter.

The franchise provides that schedules of service to all districts now served shall not be decreased, while fares shall not be increased without the consent of the council. A clause reserved to taxi cabs freedom to operate in Saanich.

Councillor Hagan expressed confidence that Mr. Matson intends to play fair with the municipality, but the proposed corporation would continue long after he had passed. Municipal Solicitor E. L. Tait pointed to a clause where remedy is provided for complaints, with drastic provisions in case of failure of the bus operator to comply with official orders.

This clause permits Saanich, upon failure of the bus system to function satisfactorily, to take over the equipment, and run the system without paying anything until the municipality is able to organize a municipal system of buses or enlist a new contract to take over the business.

RATES FOR CHILDREN

The municipality will have the right to suggest betterments. Rates, routes and services will be subject to the Public Utilities Board when that body is organized, in the meantime the final authority in disputes will be the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. Reduced rates for school children are guaranteed.

Incorporation is permitted and after approval by the property owners the measure must be validated by special legislation to be obtained by Mr. Matson, with the support of the council.

Councillor Watson remarked that Saanich never had a poorer transportation service than that existing two months prior to the entry of Mr. Matson, and many councillors agreed that the improvements already made had caused general satisfaction. Reeve Crouch agreed that the equipment used on almost all routes had been getting in very bad condition, the operators being unable or unwilling to make the heavy investment necessary for replacements.

EAST SAANICH ROUTE

C. K. Courtney, for H. B. Olson, addressed the council, pointing out that the Gray Line had made heavy investment in new equipment on the strength of the municipal half-yearly license to operate on the East Saanich Road. He declared that Mr. Matson had bought out all the other lines operating in Saanich but had made no offer to take over the route to Sidney operated by his client.

"We will run until we are put off," he declared, asserting that the by-law should exclude the East Saanich Road route from the general franchise as the Gray Line had a mail contract to Sidney and the traffic was not sufficient for competing lines, and it was going to be a handicap to the Gray Line not to be able to pick up Saanich traffic.

"This franchise should have been put up for bids. We would have made a bid which would net Saanich a considerable sum. We are prepared to make a bid now for this franchise which Mr. Matson gets for nothing," he announced.

Reeve Crouch protested: "You will make no bid for a service to all Saanich. Did you not receive a letter from Mr. Matson asking what you would take for your line?" he asked. Mr. Courtney knew of no such offer and Mr. Olson interjected "No."

Councillor Stubbs advised Mr. Olson to offer his system to Mr. Matson, pointing out that the Flying Line had been bought out by Mr. Olson with full knowledge that the license was merely a half-yearly permit. "You cannot blame the council. We have to consider the transportation problems of the whole of Saanich. We cannot discriminate and cut one route off," he pointed out.

UNANIMOUS

When retiring Mr. Olson asked permission to ask one question and said: "If Harrison owned the Flying Line today would he have received the same treatment I am now getting?" Reeve Crouch replied that the council must think of the interests of the whole of Saanich.

The by-law was reported complete on motion of Councillor Watson seconded by Councillor Borden and was unanimously passed.

Polling will take place on Saturday, July 14, at the following places: Ward One, Cedar Hill School; Ward Two, Tolmie School; Ward Three, Gordon Head School; Ward Four, Marigold Hall; Ward Five, Royal Oak School; Ward Six, Temperance Hall, and Ward Seven, Tillicum School.

R. R. F. Sewell was appointed returning officer.

SAANICH PAYS NO COMMISSIONS ON REALTY SALES

Saanich will no longer pay commission to realty dealers upon sales of municipally-owned property. The Municipal Council last night unanimously decided that sales at list prices can be made without paying commissions, councillors stating that many recent purchasers made selections of property at the municipal offices, but completed their deals through realty offices seeking commission on the sale.

MARYE AND "MOM" Their Letters

Dearest Marye:

The neklace came, and it is a beauty. It looks so nice with the new black and white printed chiffon I have just finished making. We never see anything like that out here, and it is such a pletsure to have something selected by you.

But even more welcome than the necklace was your last letter in which you really seemed to be happy, and to be started on the right direction.

I wish I could see you at the fashion show—I am sure you will look lovely. You are fortunate in having the slim, straight figure that seems to be the vogue now—though I was considered much too thin, when I was your age, and about your size, and tried in every way to make myself look larger. Times change.

Florence came in to see me to-day, and to hear about you, for it seems you have not written to her in several weeks. I did not tell her about your accident, for I knew it would be all over town within two hours if I did.

There are times when I think her mother is unwise in not letting her go to New York to try to get on the stage. She has an idea that a great actress is being stifled in her, and that all she needs to become another Bernhardt is just an audience.

Perhaps if she went through the actual experience of trying to get a job, and if she were to encounter a few actual producers who gave her a tryout—or did not—she would be able to get that illusion out of her mind. As it is, she simply becomes more theatrical all the time, and less and less agreeable. And no one here could possibly make her understand how misguided she is, because there is no one here whose opinion she values at all.

I shall tell her that you are studying French and that you are volunteering your services for charitable work, and possibly that may give her some food for thought—for she admires you immensely, and I might as well add, she envies you, too. She copies all your fads so quickly that possibly she might smulate you in other respects.

Be sure to tell me all about the fashion show, and about the clothes. I suppose I never shall be so old that I won't like to hear about new styles. And perhaps you can tell me sort of a Summer coat I ought to have. My Spring one is almost too heavy now. What would you suggest?

Give my love to cousin Julia, and much for yourself. MOM.

FIERS HONORED

London, June 26.—The transatlantic trio, Miss Amelia Earhart, Wilmer Stultz, the pilot, and Louis Gordon, mechanic, were paid high tribute for their ocean flight when guests at a luncheon here yesterday. The speakers included Sir Sefton Brancker, Air Vice-Marshal; Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary of the Air Ministry, and Lady Astor, M.P. Lady Heath, the English flier, was the hostess. Others present included Sir Alan and Lady Cobham, Lady Eleanor Smith and Lord Decies.

BELA KUN TELLS OF WAR SCHEME

On Trial in Vienna, He Says Italy and Hungary Plotting Against Russia

Vienna, June 26—Bela Kun, fiery Communist, who is being held in Austria on a charge of entering the country after having been expelled, caused a sensation in court here when he declared the reason he had come to Austria was because the Third International had cumulative reports that Italy and Hungary were preparing for war against Soviet Russia. Other countries would be dragged into that war, he said, and the proletariat would be made "fodder for their cannon."

The accused man was defiant and almost insolent in his attitude toward his three judges.

CHARGES OF MURDER

The Hungarian Government has sought to have him extradicted to face charges of murder growing out of his rule in that country as Dictator several years ago, but thus far the Austrian Government has declined to hand him over.

The Austrian Government has asserted his presence in Vienna was part of a plot to inaugurate a fresh communistic regime in Hungary under the patronage of Moscow. He entered Austria under a false German passport, an offence punishable by ninety days in jail.

WIRELESS-CABLE MERGER REPORTED

London Rumor of New Empire Scheme Raises Prices of Company Stocks

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—The London Evening Standard to-day said it understood an announcement was expected immediately to the effect the Government would approve a merger of wireless and cable interests. Consequently Marconi stock rose a dollar a share on the London Stock Exchange to-day, and shares of Eastern Telegraph were also active.

Pending the report of the Pacific Cable Conference, which has been meeting in London for some time, rumors have been widespread of a great merger of existing cable and wireless companies to take over from the various governments of the Empire the present system of communication. Canada is interested as a part operator of the Pacific cable system, the revenue from which has in recent years been unsatisfactory.

TO HOLD EXPRESS HEARING IN FALL

Hearing of the application of Canadian express companies for increased rates will not take place before the Railway Commission until the Autumn, it is understood here. It had been expected the case would be argued before adjournment, but now it is stated the matter will go before the commission in Ottawa in the Fall. British Columbia with the three prairie provinces already has filed its objections to increased express rates through Isaac Pitblado, K.C., of Winnipeg, its counsel, while interior fruit growers also have taken similar action on their own account.

OPIUM ARREST IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, June 26.—A seizure of eleven tins of opium and the arrest of a Chinese fireman were made by Customs officers shortly before noon on the American Mail Line steamship Esther Dollar, which arrived here early this morning to load for the Orient.

The fireman, Ah, Chang Chow, No. 3 man, was taken to the police station and the search of the ship is continuing. It is believed more opium may be uncovered on board.

Candidates Named In South Vancouver

Vancouver, June 26.—C. W. Feast was nominated Liberal candidate in South Vancouver for the Legislature at a convention in Maple Hall, South Vancouver, last night. The nomination was made unanimous, the five others named withdrawing.

The Conservatives of South Vancouver also nominated last night. Reeve J. W. Cornett defeated Clive Planta, one ballot being taken.

Austrian Cabinet Now Faces Crisis

Vienna, June 26.—Franz Dinghofer, Minister of Justice, has resigned his post as an outgrowth of criticism regarding his refusal to permit the extradition of Bela Kun, communist, to Hungary.

It is believed the entire Cabinet will fall.

HOUSTON TEST STARTS TO-DAY

him nearly fifty short of the nominating mark, but he is assured of so many more whenever he needs them that his friends and many of his political foes regard his nomination as inevitable.

It developed to-day that part of the strategy of the Southern drys was a campaign with home folks and they insist there has been a veritable deluge of telegrams pouring in during the last few hours to delegates protesting against Smith.

STATEMENT BY REED

Down the street, away from the bustling delegates, the drys are busy at work. The statement of Senator Reed of Missouri on prohibition, declaring the Eighteenth Amendment must be enforced by both the State and Federal Governments, until and unless a better way of regulating the liquor traffic is discovered, has gone a long way in bridging the gap between his forces and the Southern drys.

If Smith is stopped, Reed is hopeful of receiving Southern and Western endorsement.

The programme beyond stopping Smith, however, has not even been considered.

ATTACK ON HOOVER

Houston, Texas, June 26.—The charge that Herbert Hoover fixed prices on farm products of the United States during the World War "for the benefit of the British and Allied buyers" was made to-day by Senator Reed of Missouri, in carrying gon his fight for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency of the United States. The Missouri senator has long contended that Mr. Hoover, as Food Administrator during the war, was responsible for the fixing of the price of wheat, but to-day he declared in a prepared statement that the Republican presidental candidate had done it for the benefit of the British and Allies.

"Shortly before coming to the United States from Great Britain," Senator Reed's statement said, "Mr. Hoover had assisted in the creation of a single purchasing agency for the Allies. That agency was created for the purpose of holding down prices of American farm products.

PURCHASING AGENCY

"Mr. Hoover arrived on April 13, 1917, and at once sought power to keep prices down in our domestic market and advocated the organization of a single corporation agency and a combination of that agency with the purchasing agency of the Allies.

"It was undoubtedl yhis purpose to fix prices on farm products for the benefit of the British and Allied buyers. As soon as he gained power he carried out that exact scheme."

BAPTIST UNION PLAN ADOPTED

In the present state of the Protestant world, Baptists had no alternative but to continue as a separate demonination, he said.

The fact that Baptists were meeting to-day as a distinct alliance showed they felt they were justified in continuing as a distinct church. Nevertheless they did not want to cut themselves off from the main stream was really as desirable as some of its proponents thought.

The speaker doubted if church union of Protestantism.

WARNED STATISTICS

In a vigorous and humorous address, Rev. John McBeath, of London, England, warned the Baptists against satisfaction with their efforts and against statistics.

"As soon as you think you are all right, the Devil's got you in his clutches," he declared.

Toronto, June 26.—Pleading for more intimate relations and better understanding between British and United States Baptists, Professor L. H. Marshall of McMaster University, Toronto, addressed the Baptist World Alliance here this afternoon. Just as Canada plays the role of intermediary between Britain and the United States, so might Canadian Baptists help to bring about good fellowship between the brethren of Britain and the United States, he said.

Fellowship between Baptists on both sides of the Atlantic was a matter of world moment, he maintained, since it would help to unite the English-speaking peoples, who exercised a decisive influence in the preservation of world peace.

There were also, he said, reasons why the promotion of fellowship concerned Baptists as a denomination. Misunderstandings could be removed and Baptists on either side of the Atlantic could learn to imitate the virtues and avoid the shortcomings of their confreres across the sea.

LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE

The speaker had sharp words for "the attempts being made to-day to force us away from individualism, which is one of our characteristics, into a kind of standardization." Liberty of conscience was being endanger within the denomination itself after it had been secured without.

"A man," he declared, "may embrace the faith of the New Testament and repudiate infant baptism and even then be told he is neither a Christian nor a Baptist. Such tyranny is intolerable. Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

GROWTH SHOWN

Statistics issued at the congress yesterday show the number of Baptists in the world is now nearing the 10,000,000 mark, and of this number more than 8,000,000 are in North America. There are 70,805 Baptist churches in the world, with 56,721 of them in the Northern Hemisphere.

More than 4,000 delegates are attending the congress.

sure that any remedial measure which might be effected would come through the interest of Premier MacLean and his party rather than through Dr. Tolmie and those who were with him and who had hitherto done nothing to help in this Federal problem.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, the candidate for the riding, reviewed the social legislation passed by the Liberal Government, dealing at length with Mothers' Pensions and Old Age Pensions. She also dealt with the finances of the Province pointing out that the Conservatives, to suit their own ends, quoted the public debt of the Province at figures varying from $95,000,000 to $125,000,000, whereas the actual gross debt was $80,000,000 and the net debt $46,500,000.

Mrs. Smith was optimistic as to the results of her election campaign and she promised to give the electors of Esquimalt what she had given to her constituents in Vancouver—her full time and interest in all matters pertaining to their benefit.

Lady Emily Walker moved the vote of thanks to the speakers, which was enthusiastically endorsed by the meeting.

quired in excess of $3,000,000 more, while soldier settlement and loans for the industrial re-establishment of returned soldiers had also required financial assistance running into large figures.

The Premier freely admitted increased taxation and debt, but pointed out the public was getting the worth of its money and its finances were never in better condition.

"We can't spend the money without raising it," said the Premier. "The public is demanding improvements of every nature. We are expending money wisely and safely. We have capitalized the income from gasoline and motor car taxes and we utiline this income for the repayment of the money we borrow for the construction of roads.

SINKING FUND

"Furthemore, I can tell you we are setting aside money as a sinking fund for the repayment of every dollar of our debt at maturity. The position of our Province is sound financially. Without any reference to the value of our mines or water powers, it is exactly the same as that of a going firm saleable for $13,600 and having an outstanding mortgage of $680," said the speaker.

BUCKHAM SPEAKS

Mr. Buckham, who was Speaker of the last Legislature and is making his fifth appeal to the electors of the constituency of Columbia, preceded the Premier with a short address. He remarked on the value of new roads to the riding and drew attention to the tourist traffic through Golden over the new Golden-Banff Highway.

"I don't think the people of British Columbia are going to change horses in the middle of the stream," said Mr. Buckham.

"When I was at Ottawa last Summer I was told by officials Premier MacLean had just been there with the most reasonable demands, backed up by sound reason, that they had heard from any province during the season. They told me he had made a very favorable impression. As a friend of the Ottawa Government he can accomplish more than Dr. Tolmie, who is an avowed enemy of the Ottawa administration."

Mr. Buckham said in the course of his address that public nursing in rural districts had been of great value to the constituency. This was also true, he said, of the provision of schools in rural districts.

STEAMER SEARCHES ARCTIC SEA FOR AMUNDSEN AND HIS PLANE PARTY

RESCUE STORY UNFOUNDED

Rome, June 26—Yesterday's report that Natale Ceccioni, motor chief of the lost North Pole dirigible Italia, has been rescued from the Nobile camp on the ice off Northeast Land, now appears to be unfounded.

No confirmation of the report could be obtained from Spitsbergen and it appeared an error in transmission of a message was responsible for the erroneous information.

TO USE SEAPLANE

Oslo, Norway, June 26.—The rescue party at Virgo Bay now fears it will be impossible to save the rest of the Nobile party and the Swedish flier, Lieut. E. Lundborg, marooned off Northeast Land, for three or four weeks.

It is hoped, however, that the ice will soon break up sufficiently to make possible the landing of a large seaplane to take off the whole party in one group. The group has provisions for at least a month and more food can be dropped from planes if necessary.

FOG INTERFERES

Advices filed from the base ship Quest at Virgo Bay this morning stated there was no wind, but that a heavy fog made all flying impossible.

Hopes of finding Dr. Finn Malmgren, the Swedish meteorologist, and his two companions, Captain Alberto Mariano and Captain Zappo, who left the Nobile party on May 30 in an attempt to reach land on foot, walking over the ice, are fading daily. Aeroplane searches have been made all over the places which the party could possibly have reached. To add to the difficulty of their situation, they only had provisions up to June 21, and it is regarded as doubtful if they would be able to live off the game or fish they might come across.

DELAYED BY FOG

Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, June 26 (By way of King's Bay—By O. Arnesen, Correspondent of the Associated Press—Copyright).—Baffled by heavy fog, the rescue parties at Virgo Bay to-day were awaiting further opportunity to take off the remaining members of the Nobile party stranded on the ice off Northeast Land and Lieut. Lundborg, Swedish flyer, now marooned with them. The great Italian seaplane, S-55, under command of Major Maddalena, and the Marina will start toward the east as soon as possible in search for the missing men of the balloon party. Hope of saving the three men headed by Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish scientist, who started for land on foot almost a month ago, is considered very small.

NOBILE RESTS

General Umberto Nobile, exhausted by the privations of the past month and suffering from a broken leg, is resting aboard the base ship Citta di Milano here under careful attention for his injuries and is being kept as free as possible from the worries of the rescue groups over their difficulties. Efforts to obtain an interview with the general to-day were in vain.

PARTY KILLS BEARS

While the rescue planes, of which there are half a dozen here, are being held up by fog, fear for the safety of the radio party is not acute, inasmuch as the group now has plenty of food, having killed several polar bears with the weapons dropped last week by Major Maddalena and the Swedish flier, Capt. Tornberg.

NOW—the Children Play in the Basement.

ALL healthy children love to play. But when the scene of their frolics is the living room or bedrooms the damage done to good furniture makes their playing a mighty expensive proposition.

Give them a permanent play room by using space now being wasted in your basement. At modern cost Gyproc will transform it into bright, cheerful, "extra quarters"—with a cosy workshop for yourself and perhaps a comfortable billiard room into the bargain.

In hundreds of homes Gyproc basements fill a multitude of needs and uses. By covering walls and ceilings with Gyproc, laying 2x4's on the floor and covering with ¾ inch Rocboard, your children can play undisturbed and undisturbing—and you add several clean, comfortable rooms to your house.

Rigid, tight-jointed Gyproc walls and ceilings provide the utmost in fire-safety, economy and cold resistance. The high insulating qualities of Gyproc will save enough fuel to practically pay the entire cost within a few years. It is the only CANADIAN-MADE fireproof, cold-proof, non-warping gypsum wallboard on the market.

Gyproc is ideal for decoration with Alabastine. A perfectly smooth, even surface is assured by filling the joints with Gyproc Joint Filler. Let any of the following dealers inspect your basement and submit estimates of cost.

WILL AMUNDSEN TURN UP?

HAS THE CURTAIN BEEN RUNG down upon the life of the greatest polar explorer and adventurer of all time? The continued absence of news of Roald Amundsen is becoming ominously suggestive. A week ago he expected to reach Spitzbergen with news of the seven members of General Nobile's party who had drifted with the bag of the Italia in an easterly direction. Nothing has been heard of him or his companions since.

Hope of Amundsen's rescue has not been abandoned. It is not the first time he has disappeared from sight in the regions which he knows so well. After his first attempt to reach the pole by aeroplane he was given up; but he turned up at last and gave the world a narrative which made it gasp. He may do the same again. He is in his element amid the ice and snow, and unless the open sea has claimed him it is too early to say he is lost for ever.

It would be a thousand pities if the fate of Amundsen had been sealed. History already has given him pride of place among polar explorers. As far as the world knows he was the first to plant his standard at the South Pole. The late Captain Scott found it when he and his companions arrived there. Amundsen was the first to fly over the North Pole, and it is a strange chain of circumstances that should have sent him in search of a party led by his partner of the memorable voyage of the Norge—then to vanish himself.

Amundsen's character is revealed in his latest venture. He knew the risk he was taking by aeroplane, especially with ice conditions about as treacherous as they could be, for we are told that no expert would think of taking the chances which this great explorer has taken except under compulsion. But seven men were at the mercy of the elements. That was enough for Amundsen.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LOGS

JUDGED BY SOME OF THE STATEments credited to Dr. Tolmie and his supporters anyone would think that we were shipping an enormous amount of logs out of this Province in their raw state. The records do not support this view by any means.

It will be understood, of course, that not all of the timber land in British Columbia is under the control of the provincial authorities; but from the land which it does control, seven and one-half per cent. of the annual cut was exported in the form of logs when the Conservatives were in power, compared with only three per cent. under the present Administration.

It should not be necessary to put the record straight for our opposition friends; but so much is being said by them on this subject that their statements require checking. The public is not interested in generalities at this stage. It wants facts.

OUR BLIND PEOPLE

AT OTTAWA YESTERDAY HON. James A. Robb, Dominion Minister of Finance, assured a delegation representing the Canadian Federation of the Blind that the Federal Government would give its sympathetic consideration to a request for an improvement of the lot of the sightless people of the country.

One of the suggestions made by the delegation was that the blind people of the Dominion should be given pensions. Mr. Robb could not do more than reply that it would hardly be possible to introduce legislation of that kind until the various provinces had accepted the Old Age Pensions measure. So far, of course, British Columbia is the only province paying these pensions, although our lead soon is to be followed by Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and the Yukon Territory. The Conservative Government of Ontario still refuses to give the old people of that province the benefit of the Dominion's dollar-for-dollar arrangement.

British Columbia is doing excellent work in the provincial school for blind children at Point Grey. This was established by the present Government about seven years ago. And as soon as the other provinces of the Dominion adopt the Old Age Pensions legislation it will be possible for the Federal Parliament to consider ways and means of looking after the blind more adequately than at present.

A WRONG DIAGNOSIS

SOME TIME AGO SIR JOHN EAGLEsome, K.C.M.G., delivered a speech in Bradford, England, in which he said that the villages of the Cariboo country were suffering from a bad dose of Bolshevism. The Rev. A. D. MacKinnon of Williams Lake, B.C., has written to The Vancouver Daily Province to say there is no truth in the statement and that he has found all the people in that large area "as good Christians on the average as can be found anywhere."

There will be no hesitation in British Columbia, or anywhere in Canada, for that matter, in accepting the statement of Mr. MacKinnon. It was not even necessary for him to assure anybody about the good citizenship of the people with whom he has lived for many years and whom he knows intimately. It is perhaps just as well, however, that he has taken notice of Sir John Eaglesome's remarks if only to draw attention to the growing practice on the part of some people who come out here from the Old Country, cross the Dominion on one of the main transportation lines, and then return and give their impressions. Several of these holiday-makers in recent years have described Canada, on the platform and by the printed word, in a manner that would almost make a cat laugh.

Not long ago the Bishop of Guildford told the people of Britain that we of British Columbia were growing pagan and that the religious life of this Province was in a sorry way indeed. Defenders of our good name in London promptly took him to task in the newspapers, and one clergyman over there presented him with a few facts which should effectively curb any desire he might have in the future of alarming his parishioners about our spiritual condition.

INCREASING OUR WEALTH

WHEN THE VOTERS OF BRITISH Columbia consider the public debt they also should bear in mind the character of the expenditures which have had to be made for the purpose of developing the Province and increasing its wealth.

Large sums of money, for instance, have been spent on roads; but no sounder investments could be made than these. Roads are essential to practically every form of industry. Without this sort of communication, without continually adding to our roads, this Province soon would stagnate. But every road that is built adds to our wealth. It brings in more people, brings more land under cultivation, reduces taxation, and generally keeps the wheels of commerce turning.

Take the West Coast Road. It will cost a good deal of money. But we venture to suggest that there is nobody in Victoria who would oppose its construction on the grounds of its initial cost. On the contrary, it is realized that when this communication has been provided for virtually virgin territory, abounding in a variety of natural wealth, there will be a new incentive for more intensive settlement, which, in turn, will mean greater population for Victoria, and greater population insures more business and less taxation.

Our debt has increased because the money spent which has made it larger has been spent upon productive enterprises. Our cost has been the initial outlay. The benefits will accumulate in perpetuity.

THE WAGE-EARNER'S LOT

IS THE WAGE-EARNER BETTER OFF now than he was before the war? The Toronto Star has no hesitation in saying he is and quotes Dominion publications to prove it. It says:

It is apparent from these publications that the average wage-earner is much better off than before the war. His living costs, since 1913, have increased approximately fifty-seven per cent., this figure being based upon prices of food, fuel, light, rent, clothing and sundries. But wage rates have increased much more rapidly: In the building trades, seventy-nine per cent.; metal trades, seventy-eight per cent.; printing trades, ninety-five per cent.; electric railways, ninety per cent.; steam railways, ninety-eight per cent.; coal mining, sixty-eight per cent.; common factory labor, eighty-eight per cent.; miscellaneous factory trades, ninety-nine per cent.; logging and saw-milling, eighty-three per cent. These are average rates, not average wages, and if applied to shortened hours do not give as great an advantage, compared with the rise in living costs, as might at first appear. Nevertheless it is plain that the wage-earner, speaking generally, has greatly improved his position in the past fifteen years. He is affording things which, before the war, he would have considered far beyond his reach.

Evidence of the improved position of the wage-earner, moreover, may be found in the fact that home building in Canada during the last few years has gone on apace. We are now the greatest nation of home owners.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

SEEING CANADA

The Ottawa Citizen

One outgrowth of the visit of British newspaper editors and proprietors last Summer is the seven weeks' free holiday trip for young people through Canada this season, organized by the Allied Newspaper Group. It is intended that fifty girls and boys between the ages of fourteen and twenty-one, chosen from the results of an examination paper on Empire subjects, shall enjoy a tour of Canada, during which they will cover by land and sea some 15,000 miles.

These young people will be conducted throughout the country as guests of the Allied Newspaper Group, and visit all the principal cities as well as show places like Niagara Falls, Jasper National Park, the E. P. Ranch. The scheme is to be continued into subsequent years, so that each Summer will see a party of youthful Britishers making a tour of the Dominion. The undertaking has been blessed by Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Amery and Mr. J. H. Thomas.

Besides developing interest in the British Commonwealth and giving to Canada some useful publicity, this holiday trip of the young folks should prove another reminder to Britishers that this country is within the scope of an ordinary Summer holiday for people not counted as being unusually well off. Unrivalled ocean and rail services now make it possible for British people to spend a holiday in Canada at a cost which does not vary much from a trip to the Mediterranean.

PRE-EMPTIVE BIDS

Although the occasions are few, there are times when pre-emptive bidding is necessary and advisable.

When, then, shall two no trump or two in a suit be bid originally? Should you ever bid two originally? When should three or more be bid originally? What is the necessity of opening a bid of more than one?

The object of pre-empting is to shut out bidding on the part of the adversaries and prevent them from arriving at their best game-going declaration by interchanging information. It must be done in fear of something, else there is no necessity of pre-empting. The stronger your hand, the less advisable is it to pre-empt!

All authorities agree that a bid of two in a major or minor suit will not shut out bidding. This being so, what is the necessity of bidding two? Some experts bid two when holding A K Q X X X in a minor or major suit. Those experts who advocate it assert that it will give partner accurate information as to this particular holding. They all agree that you should not bid two except when holding A K Q X X X, and then only when you do not hold material strength in the other suits. Exactly what strength may be held in other suits is not definitely determined.

The disadvantage of bidding two is that it may shut out valuable information from your partner. Partner may hesitate to go to three hearts after your two-spade bid, but game may be made in hearts and not in spades. The expert may, under certain circumstances, bid two spades, recognizing the psychological moment for it. Some authorities recognize the two bid as a convention when holding a suit of six cards including the Ace-King-Queen, but thousand sin different localities have not generally accepted it.

Bennett, on Tour, Speaks in Quebec

Sweetsburg, Que., June 26.—Continuing his Summer speaking tour, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, addressed a meeting yesterday afternoon in this town in the Federal constituency of Brome-Missisquoi. The sky was overcast, with a threat of rain during the gathering.

Mr. Bennett devoted most of his speech to the Conservative tariff views, making it plain he regarded the present system as inadequate. He said this country could only be great by having a united policy from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a united policy for the development of Canada as a whole, for the protection and development of the country which would give work to the people and keep them in Canada.

Other speakers were Miss Mildred Bennett, sister of the leader, Senator C. P. Beaubien of Montreal, and Senator Rufus H. Pope, also of Quebec Province.

Mr. Bennett also spoke yesterday at Granby, where he declared in favor of higher tariff duties as a means of keeping the agriculturists of Quebec province on their farms.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

GOOSE CREEK CHURCH, sometimes called Goose Crick Church, is one of the oldest houses of worship in America. It is located near Charleston, S. C. The church building was begun in 1714 and completed five years later. It is said to have been spared during the revolution because above the chancel was the royal coat of arms of England. An old prayer book containing the autograph of the church's first pastor was recently found in Charleston and presented to the church.

McBRIDE CLUB MEETING

To the Editor—In this morning's Colonist I observe a short account of the meeting of the McBride Conservative Club held in the Sons of England Hall last evening. The account appearing in The Colonist has been inserted by some person who was present at the meeting and who violated the terms of the resolution passed thereat to the effect that no disclosure would be made of the outcome of the meeting. The facts as stated in The Colonist are incorrect and do not contain a full account of what occurred at the meeting. The item in The Colonist implies that a unanimous vote of confidence in the four Conservative candidates for Victoria was passed, which is entirely incorrect.

GOVERNMENT PARKS

To the Editor:—I read in your paper of June 23 last the description of the new government park in the Sooke Hills, also adjacent property bought by the Alpine Club for park purposes.

Under the heading "Provision for the public" it is stated "The policy of the club will be that no roads shall be built into the park or into any of the vast country lying to the north of the reservation." It would be interesting to know why the Alpine Club should apply such autocratic and selfish policy towards the future development of the "vast country lying to the north of the reservation." Presumably this "vast country" stretches as far as Cowichan Lake, for under the heading "Nature of Country" is is said "the location makes available all the mountains south of Cowichan Lake without the necessity of crossing a single road." It would seem to the detriment of the general public to have a pleasure-seeking organization suggesting a policy to stop the development of roads in any section of the country outside its own property. Extensive mining operations have been carried on in this "vast country" in the past and who knows what may be discovered in the future. We are constantly hearing about the wonderful natural resources of the Island. Why park them all?

ESQUIMALT POLITICS

To the Editor:—A letter appearing in Saturday's issue of The Colonist from E. E. Billinghurst prompts one to write, for it is most unmanly of him to endeavour to misrepresent the facts in regard to Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith and written probably to mislead the new arrivals in our district and to malign this very capable and energetic lady who so kindly consented to be the Liberal candidate for Esquimalt.

Mrs. Smith has been known and esteemed by most of the old-timers of Esquimalt for over a quarter of a century. Her husband, the late Mr. Ralph Smith, was one of the best members that ever represented Esquimalt in the Federal House, and during his campaign and term of office his worthy partner, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, was of the greatest help and assistance not only to him, but any worthy project brought to her notice she took it up with the utmost energy and success.

Billinghurst's slur on Mrs. Smith's assistance to social legislation is both unwise and untrue for it has been her sole ambition to help in all matters pertaining to same and by her untiring efforts and assistance is on the statute book to-day. Billinghurst's claim that Conservatives originated this is all bunk, and like Mr. Pooley's assertion at Jordan River last week that the West Coast Road had been a pet hobby of his for many years. Why then did he not do something? Does anyone remember Mr. Pooley ever mentioning in the House or ever attempting to do anything for our district? No, Mr. Editor, as far as Esquimalt is concerned, it should not be hard for the people in the district to decide who to vote for.

On the one hand our late member, Mr. Pooley, who has represented Esquimalt for many years, has seen it go down grade until it is fairly in the rut. He has never achieved anything or attempted to help the district.

He spent his time out of sessions in by-elections in other constituencies to the neglect of his own and, when in session, knocking everything both good and bad the Government brought up. Yes, a proper failure.

On the other hand, they have in Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith an energetic, capable lady full of ambition, proven by her sincere and able service in the late Legislature, who is prepared to devote all her time in the interests of Esquimalt district and to endeavor to bring it back to that state of progress it is justly entitled to.

ANOTHER VOTE ON PICTURES

Proposal City Finance Film Venture Before Council

Victoria is to have a new motion picture by-law. News of the measure reached the majority of the city council as a surprise last night, following a hurried meeting of the industrial committee yesterday morning. The existence of the by-law, to be presented at a special meeting on Friday, was uncovered by Alderman J. L. Mara, who said he had to go to the street for information as to what the city was doing in this instance.

Just before the council was about to adjourn Mayor J. C. Pendray stated he wanted a special meeting of the council on Tuesday at 4 p.m. The meeting was in reference to motion pictures, he intimated.

Alderman P. R. Brown: What is there about motion pictures now?

Alderman J. L. Mara: Yes, that's what I would like to know. I met Mr. Hustwick on the street; he shook me warmly by the hand, and said he was leaving Victoria.

Mayor Pendray: Mr. Hustwick has left, but he left Mr. Moresby White here, so that if anything turned up he might consider it.

TO FINANCE PICTURE

Alderman Mara: I heard on the street, and it seems to me it is the only place I can hear anything about this, that the city was going to finance the first picture. Is that correct?

Mayor Pendray: There is an effort under way to see what the city can do. Something like that but it is not ready yet for report.

Alderman Mara: Then it is pure waste of time. It is a slight to the intelligence of any business man to be asked to consider such a proposition. When will the report of the industrial committee be ready?

Alderman E. S. Woodward: It should be ready by to-morrow. There are very strong grounds for getting the matter dealt with without any delay.

ANOTHER BY-LAW

Alderman Mara: Is another motion picture by-law contemplated?

Mayor Pendray: Yes, a by-law will be prepared.

Alderman Mara then said that he was informed that a notice of motion of a city by-law proposing an agreement between the city and the Pacific Pictures Limited was already posted on the board, while the majority of the council knew nothing about it. Was that so, he asked?

Alderman Woodward: There is a notice of motion posted, but it will have to be changed if we are going to meet on Friday, and not Tuesday.

Alderman Mara: Well if any by-law is contemplated, I insist that we be given copies of it before we come to that meeting.

Mayor Pendray promised that copies would be distributed to the aldermen; but Alderman Woodward demurred. There was not time, he asserted, and the city was working against time in preparing the by-law to be submitted.

Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the industrial committee which met Mr. Hustwick and Reginald A. Hincks in the Mayor's office yesterday morning, prior to the departure of Mr. Hustwick for Hollywood, remained silent.

Debate on the issue was abandoned when the council agreed to sit on Friday of this week in special session to receive a draft of the "Pacific Pictures Limited Agreement By-Law," the purpose of which has not yet been explained to members of the council apart from the industrial committee.

Purgatory Is More Humane Than Hell Claims Lecturer

"Protestants of late have been giving more attention to the outstanding doctrines of the church of Rome than they have for many years," says Prof. C. T. Everson, Bible lecturer at the Everson Tabernacle, Pandora and Vancouver Streets. "We were accustomed to laugh at what we termed the absurdity of such a place as purgatory. But upon more sober reflection we found that purgatory is more humane and reasonable than the everlasting hell that we hold to so tenaciously."

Prof. Everson will speak to-night at his tabernacle on the subject: "Are Protestants Beginning to Believe in Purgatory?"

Lacto Dextrin and Psylla Keeps You Feeling Fit

Almost every one of us suffers to some extent from constipation, auto-intoxication, headaches and the related ailments due to improper habits of eating, which result in poor digestion and retarded elimination. The surprising thing is that so few reach the advanced state of illness (indicated by chronic headaches, bad breath, coated tongue and loss of "pep") which makes the need of treatment too obvious to be overlooked.

To right, as well as prevent these ailments referred to above, we recommend

HUGE PRICE PAID FOR MANUSCRIPT

"Alice in Wonderland" Sold to American For $150,000

Philadelphia, June 26.—The original manuscript of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" has been sold with other items for $150,000 to a well-known American collector, who wishes to keep his identity unknown. The sale was made by Dr. A. S. Rosenbach, who bought the manuscrip in London for $77,000, said to have been the highest price ever paid for a single book at auction in England.

Before sailing for New York from Southampton with the "Alice in Wonderland" manuscript, Dr. A. S. Rosenbach, the well-known United States collector of art treasures, said he had spent probably $50,000,000 in his various excursions to Europe to buy books, manuscripts and rare pictures. "During my present visit to England," he added, "I have paid out over $2,000,000."

With a comment on the transfer of British art treasures to America, he said, "The more we take out, the more valuable will be the things that remain. However, this treasure hunting has another side. It helps to put many families on their feet again."

He said he was taking back a book for which he had paid $25,000. That money had got the family who sold the book out of serious difficulty. They were in great need of money.

"The book had been in the family's possession for 150 years," Dr. Rosenbach said. "They realized its importance but the price I offered them was a generous one and they accepted it."

Central W.C.T.U.—The Central W.C.T.U. will hold a parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. David Fair, 1615 Camosun Street, on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when officers will be elected and the business for the last year finished up.

He escaped with cash and cheques totaling $273.

RECITAL GIVEN BY SINGER'S PUPILS

Mrs. McCoy Jameson Presented Pupils in Fine Concert

St. Andrew's lecture room, Broughton Street, was filled with a most appreciative audience on Monday evening when Mary McCoy Jameson, L.T.C.M., presented her pupils in one of the finest recitals they have yet given.

Mrs. Jameson was assisted by Miss Isabella Pike and Miss Sheila Tait, pianists, pupils of Miss Marion Hemming, who proved themselves splendid exponents of the Virgil Clavier method, and were much applauded. Margaretta Green acted as accompanist throughout the evening, giving fine support to the many vocalists, several of whom were appearing for the first time.

The lecture room presented a charming setting with its floral decorations. The programme was carried out in a finished manner and fully justified the repeated applause of the audience, and included "Melody in June" (Hunt), a duet by Viola and Verile Johnstone; "Cradle Song," "April Goes a-Walking," were charmingly sung by Clementine Riach, who with Laura Archibald, in "Who Is Sylvia?" "Come Then Pining, Peevish Lover," were heard for the first time in recital and whose voices give great promise. Agnes Marquart, in "Florian's Song" (Godard), and Katherine Kenning in "Should He Upbraid," sang with charm and assurance. Helen Lightfoot did exceedingly well in "Just for To-day," and "Rock-a-Bye Train."

Mrs. McTavish was heard in several delightful numbers when the smooth legato tones were greatly admired, recitative "And God Said," "With Verdure Clad" (Haydn), being her first group, and "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "My Lover's a Fisherman" (Strickland), her second. The beauty and clarity of her runs were favorably commented upon.

Mary Hamilton sang with beauty and sympathetic understanding and artistry two fine old Hebridean songs, "The Bonnie Earl o' Moray," and "The Island Herdmaid." Little Lillian Young sang "The Shepherdess" with much charm; Lois Maxwell was heard to advantage in "The Lass With the Delicate Air." Marjorie Oliver showed marked improvement and gave much pleasure with "Shepherd's Cradle Song," and "Daffodil Gold"; Grace Beckwith in "A Piper" and "The Brown Thrush," sang beautifully; Viola Johnstone in "Fairings" (Martin), and "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," showed nice appreciation of light and shade. A. W. Trevett's beautiful baritone was heard to advantage in "Hear the Winds Blow," "Lost in London Town" (Nelson). A vast amount of work has been accomplished by this singer in a few months, the results being delightful. Verlie Johnstone excelled in "Sapphic Ode" (Brahms), and in "Trees," Isobel Crawford sang "Lorelei" (Liszt) and "A Birthday" (Woodman), with her usual charm responding vibrantly with "Cherry Ripe," a request encore number. The entire group of students were conspicuous in their singing by their poise, breath control, purity of tone and clarity of diction.

CRICKETERS AT WEDDING TO-DAY OF DEAN'S SON

Archway of Bats For Eric Hugh Quainton and Miss Gladys Hinton

Cricketers in their flannels lent a picturesque note to an interesting wedding which took place at 10 o'clock this morning at Christ Church Cathedral when Gladys Evelyn Hinton, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hinton of 912 St. Patrick Street, Oak Bay, was united in marriage to Eric Hugh Quainton, B.A., Cambridge, younger son of the Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, and Mrs. Quainton.

The Dean performed the marriage ceremony, assisted by Rev. T. M. Hughes of St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, in the presence of a large congregation.

On leaving the church, the bridal party was escorted by two small cricketers, Masters Jack and George Payne, to a guard of honor composed of members of the Five C's Cricket Club, who formed an archway of cricket bats, under which the bridal party passed. The groom is one of the prominent members of the club, being associated with it for the last ten years.

For the happy occasion, the church was decorated with a profusion of Summer flowers in all the varying shades, being the artistic handiwork of Miss Betty Savannah, assisted by the bridesmaids and other friends of the bride and groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a French frock of Nile green georgette embroidered in an all-over pattern with opalescent beads, while on the skirt, a more distinctive pattern was embroidered with pearls and rhinestones, the hem finished in deep points bound with georgette. In place of the conventional veil she wore a hat of green mohair lined with silver lace. Her bouquet was a shower of Ophelia roses, Cecil Brunner roses and cream sweet peas.

There were four bridesmaids, the Misses Violet and Dorothy Hinton, sisters of the bride, and the Misses Sheila and Noreen Donnelly, all of whom wore frocks of silk taffeta fashioned with simplicity in the pastel shades of pink, blue, yellow and orchid. Each bridesmaid wore a mohair hat to match the color of her frock and carried a sheaf of pink and mauve sweet peas and pale blue dephiniums, tied tulle to match her frock.

The groom was supported by the Rev. Wilfrid J. Crick of Kimberley, and the ushers were Messrs. Leslie Hinton, Charlie Pillar and Monckland Charlewood. Mr. Eden Quainton, brother of the groom, presided at the organ and played the wedding marches on the arrival and departure of the wedding party.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the happy couple were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. Quainton, Mrs. Colpman, sister of the bride, and Mrs. H. E. F. Houston of Shanghai, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Hinton wore a gown of blue and black crepe de Chine and hat to match, Mrs. Quainton, a black georgette over blue, with hat to match, Mrs. Colpman, a frock of beige crepe de Chine, on which was woven a Japanese pattern in brilliant colors, and Mrs. Houston wore a gown of gray crepeback satin.

Among the many wedding gifts were a standard lamp made from wood from a tree felled on the property on which the new cathedral is being erected, the gift of the Mens' Parish Guild, a silver cigarette box from the members of the staff of the University School, of which the groom is a member, and a tray of flat silver from the Five C's Cricket Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Quainton left later in the day by motor for a trip up the Island, the bride traveling in a frock of Nile green Japanese figured silk, with which was worn a hat to match and a cloak of greige trimmed with a muskrat collar.

NEW DOMINION HEAD OF I.O.D.E. IS KNOWN HERE

Mrs. John A. Stewart First President Chosen Outside Toronto

"For the first time in its history the National Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire now has a president who is not a Toronto woman," says an Eastern paper. Under the original constitution, no woman in Canada who was not a resident of the city of Toronto could hold the office of president of the National I.O.D.E.

Some few years ago the constitution was changed and Mrs. John A. Stewart of Perth, Ontario, is the first non-resident of Toronto to attain this high office in one of the largest women's patriotic organizations in Canada. She was the unanimous choice for the presidency at the election, when many hundreds of delegates from all over the Dominion were present. Mrs. Stewart has long taken an active part in the organization, being a member of the national executive and for some time an officer in the National Chapter.

LOYALTY TO CANADA

"We could not be daughters of the Empire if we were not loyal to Canada; we could not be loyal Canadians if we were not good daughters of the Empire. There can be no antipathy between broad Imperialism and good Canadianism," said Mrs. Stewart in her first presidential address.

In Perth, where she makes her home she is well-known for her benevolent work and her active interest in community undertakings. She is a Girl Guide commissioner for the district, and is on the national council of that organization. She is also honorary secretary for the Canadian Council of

Natural Loveliness

Is ever the reward of sensible skin care—to safeguard your children's complexion and your own, just follow this simple daily rule

NATURAL beauty, simple and alluring, is the beauty standard of today.

The modern mother starts early with protective skin care for her children . . . and preserves her own youthful freshness in precisely the same way. That is, by the exclusion of artificial methods, often so hazardous to the skin.

Skin beauty starts with skin cleanliness; pores kept healthfully clean with the softening lather of olive and palm oils as blended in Palmolive. World's leading specialists on skin care agree to this.

Nature's simple rule to keep that schoolgirl complexion

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive. Then massage it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly. Then repeat both washing and rinsing. Let the final rinsing be with cold water. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream — that is all. Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening.

Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Avoid this mistake

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or one represented as of olive and palm oils, is the same as Palmolive.

And it costs but 10c the cake! So little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain a cake—then note the difference one week makes.

MANY PHILANTHROPIES

One of Mrs. Stewart's greatest hobbies is the splendid Scout and Guide camp which she maintains on a farm property next her Summer home on the Rideau Lakes. Here she has transformed an old stone house into a headquarters, and erected a bunkhouse for seventy people, and the Scouts and Guides of the district all use it for their Summer outings.

Another project she has undertaken has been the transforming of a distillery property into a beautiful park in memory of her husband, the late Hon. John Alexander Stewart, a former Federal Minister of Railways and Canals, which will be turned over to the town when she completes its beautification. Mrs. Stewart also installed two beautiful choir vestries and screens of solid oak with cathedral glass in the old church of St. James in Perth recently to the memory of her husband.

Milling Company Marks Its Golden Anniversary

Opening sessions of the annual conference of the officers of the Brackman-Ker Milling Company and the Western Canada Flour Mills Company were held yesterday at the Empress Hotel. This year's meeting was held in this city to permit the two companies to participate in the celebration of the golden jubilee anniversary of the Brackman-Ker Company, which has just completed fifty years in business.

A feature of the morning meeting was an address by Mr. Frank Gibbs, general manager, who gave a graphic review of the development of the company's interests from the days of its inception in 1878 down to the present day.

D. B. Hanna, the president, paid tribute to the founders of the Brackman-Ker Company, who, by their industry, had shown great faith in Canada. Their vision of the future was shared with that of the other great pioneers, who had builded better than they knew when they constructed the Canadian Pacific Railway, and forged the link between British Columbia and the other provinces to the east.

Other addresses of interest reviewing their long association with the company were made by R. H. B. Ker, director, and by Walter Ker, who was associated with the company in the early days of its history.

The conference continues its sessions to-day.

Among those who accompanied Mr. Hanna from the East are Joseph Wright and R. G. O. Thomson, directors; J. J. Page, general manager; D. J. Walker, Eastern manager; R. A. Pridham, treasurer; A. McQuarrie, advertising manager, all of Toronto; J. W. Horn, assistant general manager, Winnipeg; G. H. Kelly, mechanical superintendent, Winnipeg; D. M. Fraser and R. J. Marriott, branch managers at St. John, N.B., and Calgary, respectively, and J. A. C. Kemp, Toronto manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Members of the Brackman-Ker organization in attendance at the meetings yesterday were: Frank Gibbs, manager for British Columbia; H. M. Streight, superintendent of Mainland branches, New Westminster; H. A. Leigh, manager of Victoria branch; F. A. Galbraith, manager, Vancouver; R. Scragg, assistant manager, New Westminster; S. H. Catt, manager, Nanaimo; M. S. Stephens, manager, Courtenay; G. A. Brown, manager, Nelson; M. McLachlan, Prince Rupert; and A. Miller, chief accountant, Victoria.

Senator Barnard, R. H. B. Ker and Frederick Nation also attended the sessions yesterday.

The story of the Brackman-Ker Milling Company, which this year is celebrating its golden anniversary with a proud record of fifty years' successful business and a trade name which is known throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, furnishes one of the picturesque romances of industrial history in Canada.

Started in 1878 in a very modest way at Shoal Bay, North Saanich, the firm now boasts more than twenty branches distributed all through British Columbia. It is, in a very true sense, one of the concerns to which Victoria may proudly point when occasion arises to demonstrate how really progressive her business adventurers have been in many instances. Few other Canadian industries can boast such ramifications, for the Brackman-Ker Company, Victoria, has twenty branches in British Columbia, located at New Westminster, Vancouver, North Vancouver, Nelson, Rossland, Nanaimo, Langley Prairie, Coquitlam, Courtenay, Ladner, Ladysmith, Kerrisdale, Abbotsford, Brighouse, Port Alberni, Prince Rupert, Chilliwack, Sardis and Rosedale.

Former Brackman-Ker mills and elevators in Alberta are now operated under the name of Western Canada Flour Mills Co., of which the Brackman-Ker Milling Co. is now the British Columbia organization.

ITS GENESIS

The genesis of the great business was the partnership of Henry Brackman, of Victoria, and James Milne, a Scottish miller. These pioneers in 1878, laid the foundation of the Brackman-Ker Milling Co. Ltd., by building an oatmeal and feed mill at Shoal Bay, in North Saanich. The mill was a primitive one, but from the very first it aimed at turning out a high-grade product. The Colonist of January 24, 1878, notes that the North Saanch Grist Mill "has now commenced grinding every variety of grain, more particularly oats," and comments that "this will prove an undoubted benefit to the country, as hitherto all the oatmeal has had to be imported from the United States."

The beginning of the business, in 1878, was a small mill built on the old McDonald farm at Shoal Bay, Saanich. Mr. Donald McDonald was one of the pioneer farmers of the Saanich district, and donated four acres as a site for the mill. The idea of this gift was to assure its erection, securing a market for the grain grown in the Saanich farming district, and at the same time providing farmers with a source of flour supply and with mill by-products for their cattle.

In addition to the oatmeal, which was ground on the old-fashioned stones, wheat flour was gristed from local wheat grown in the Saanich district. After being ground on the stones, the wheat was bolted, and a straight grade of flour turned out. A gristing trade was also done with the farmers who brought their own wheat to the plant to be turned into flour and mill feeds. Split peas and pearl barley were other products of the mill, local-grown products being used.

The primitive machinery of the plant made it impossible to produce more than about three tons of meal per week. Monday and Tuesday of each week were reserved for the drying of oats. The kiln was a perforated iron plate; wood was used for firing, and to the use of this, Scots folk of the early day attributed the fine flavor of the oatmeal. On Wednesday the dried oats were put through the hulling-stones and fans, and the groats afterwards ground on the oatmeal stones. The meal was bagged on Thursday and Friday, and on Saturday the product was trucked down to the Government wharf on a two-wheeled handtruck, five sacks at a time, ready for shipment by the Canadian Pacific Navigation steamers which called once a week. In addition to the oatmeal-stones there was a set of stones for chopping feed grain. An interesting thing about these old stones used in the beginning of the mill's history is that they are still doing service at the Victoria mill, one set being used for grinding whole wheat and graham flour; the other for turning out the Brackman-Ker oatmeal. The leather belt used in operating these stones at Saanich is still in use at the Victoria mill.

Attached to the first mill was a general store, at that time one of the very few country stores outside Victoria. Being the only port of call on the Saanich Peninsula with a resident customs officer, Shoal Bay was the natural business centre of the North Saanich District.

In 1879 Mr. Brackman and Mr. Milne dissolved partnership, Milne's interest in the plant being purchased by Mr. Brackman, and the mill continued to operate under the name of Henry Brackman, Saanich Steam Mills, North Saanich. James Brydon was appointed as miller. A picturesque custom practiced in connection with the operations at that time was the hoisting of a flag to advise the miller when he was wanted at the mill, his home being on a farm across the arm of the bay. Robert Watson Holmes succeeded Brydon on the latter's death, two years later Harry Kerr succeeded Holmes, and still later Thomas Quine succeeded Harry Kerr. Quine continued at the mill until 1891, when the Saanich mill closed down and the new mill opened in Victoria.

MR. KER JOINS FIRM

In the meantime, in September, 1886, David Russell Ker, a young man of eighteen, eldest son of the late Robert Ker, who had been Colonial Treasurer and Auditor General of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island before Confederation, became associated with Henry Brackman at the Saanich mill. This association developed into compact of significant proportions three years later, when, on September 17, 1883, the partnership known as Brackman & Ker was formed.

David Ker had been educated at Craigflower School, the first school built on the Island, and later at the Collegiate School. When he first associated himself with the Shoal Bay mill the entire staff consisted of Henry Brackman, the owner and manager; himself; James Brydon, the miller, and John Newbigging, the engineer. He soon realized the limited opportunities of the Saanich mill, and after two years went down to San Francisco with the idea of developing his knowledge of the milling business. In San Francisco mills in 1882 he gained invaluable experience, which he applied to the Shoal Bay business when he eventually decided to return and resume his position.

"ACORNS AND OAKS"

When the partnership was effected the entire capital was represented by $3,200, which has led subsequent commentators to apply the adage about "large oaks and little acorns." The country was gradually developing at this time, and the population increasing. Mainland industries were springing up rapidly, and, crowning factor of all, the Canadian Pacific Railway was nearing completion.

OPEN IN VICTORIA

Almost synchronizing with the date of the arrival at Port Moody of the first through train from Eastern Canada, July 4, 1886, Brackman & Ker opened their first Victoria branch of the business in a small store on Wharf Street. This from the beginning was under the management and direction of the junior partner, David Russell Ker; Mr. Brackman remaining at Saanich in charge of the mill and store. Walter Henry Ker joined the firm in 1886, taking a position with the Victoria store, and Thomas Arnot Ker, another brother, took David Ker's place at the Saanich mill.

The Victoria branch venture proved such a success that it soon became necessary to find more commodious quarters, first in the De Cosmos Block on Government Street, later in a more ambitious move, when a forty-year lease was taken on part of the Joseph Bros.' property adjoining Messrs. E. G. Prior & Co.'s warehouse. The confidence felt by the firm in their future as well as Victoria's was testified to by the erection on this site of a three-story brick block, a considerable building at that time, which they continued to occupy until 1907, when the property on the corner of Broad and Pandora Avenue was purchased. Here the present building was erected.

ROLLED OATS

The whole history of industrial life is marked by the effect of developments and changes in public taste and the significance of this in industry. Heavy importations and the growing popularity of the new rolled oats cereal indicated to Brackman & Ker that they must adapt their plant to modern needs to hold their oatmeal trade. They decided in 1889 to build a modern cereal and feed plant in Victoria, and Arnot Ker was sent to San Francisco to learn the milling of the new cereal.

VICTORIA MILL

In 1891 a new company was formed and incorporated as the Brackman & Ker Milling Co., Ltd. A waterfront property was secured at Shoal Point, near the Outer Wharf, and here, on October 20 the same year, the new Victoria mill of the Brackman & Ker Company was completed and operations commenced. The enterprise was far-sighted and progressive. Thomas Arnot Ker was transferred from the Saanich mill to become superintendent of the Victoria mill, and Robert Marwick succeeding Thomas Quine as miller. In the meantime (1890) Charles Wallace Rhodes joined the company as accountant. A keen business man, he was a valuable acquisition to the new company in process of incorporation, and when Robert James Ker resigned his position in 1903, Mr. Rhodes was appointed to the secretarial position, which he held with distinction up to the time of his death in 1912.

FIRST MAINLAND BRANCH

The first Mainland branch of the firm was opened at New Westminster in September, 1892, and in 1894 a cereal mill in the same city was purchased by the Brackman & Ker interests.

It was in 1893, at the World's Fair at Chicago that the Brackman & Ker products leapt into continent-wide fame through the winning of highest honors for rolled oats. At the same exhibition they carried off the highest award for pearl barley. The succeeding year, 1894, at the Mid-Winter Fair at San Francisco, they followed up their Chicago success, winning the gold medal in competition with the leading cereal millers of the world.

The great publicity furnished by these successes was taken full advantage of by the firm.

In 1895 they opened a Vancouver branch, and the same year a branch at Edmonton. Here was erected the first elevator built in Alberta. Another elevator was built at Wetaskiwin in 1897, and finally a line of fifteen elevators was operated by the company. Another important development was the building at Strathcona, Alberta, of the first reinforced concrete grain tank in Canada. In December, 1897, they opened a branch at Nelson, and in 1900 at Rossland.

INCREASE CAPITAL

On October 9, 1899, the company, whose growth is indicated in the foregoing history, reorganized as the Brackman-Ker Milling Company, Ltd., with a capital of $500,000, subsequently (April 9, 1908) increased to $750,000.

Further branches continued to be added. At North Vancouver in 1906, at Calgary in 1906, at Nanaimo in March, 1912, and the same year, with the purchase of the Western Milling Co., a flour mill at Calgary.

After their purchase of the Calgary flour mill in 1913 they amalgamated with the Western Canada Flour Mills Co., millers of Purity Flour, thus becoming a national institution.

Prince Rupert branch was opened in December, 1914; in June, 1917, they opened at Langley Prairie, in 1917 at Courtenay, two months later at Ladner; in 1919 at Port Washington, in 1921 at Ladysmith, and Kerrisdale in 1922, at Abbotsford in 1926, at Brighouse, Lulu Island, in 1927, at Port Alberni, and in 1928 at Chilliwack, Sardis and Rosedale.

The honored founder and president of the company, David Russell Ker, died on July 13, 1923, twenty years after the death of Mr. Henry Brackman, the other member of the partnership which gave the firm its present well-known name. Mr. Ker's energy, resourcefulness, far-sighted vision and business courage furnished the motive force in the concern from the beginning, and the great success of the B. & K. Company was undoubtedly due to his outstanding ability and enterprise.

Since the retirement in 1917 of Mr. D. R. Ker from the active management, Mr. Frank B. Gibbs has been the general manager for British Columbia.

THE investment which will make a man independent in his old age is not a matter of Capital. It is an investment of Income, or rather of part of it, that will do the work. Few of us ever have Capital for this purpose, but all have an Income of some sort.

Investment from Income is purely a matter of Thrift. Not "tightwad" Thrift but a careful, methodical planning of one's Income to make it provide for future as well as present necessities.

Here is an outline of what true Thrift involves:

1. Make a Budget.
2. Keep an intelligent record of expenditures.
3. Insure your life.
4. Have a bank account.
5. Make a will.
6. Own your own home, eventually.
7. Pay your bills promptly.
8. Take more life assurance as an investment.
9. Spend less than you earn.

YOUR BABY and MINE
by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CAUSE OF BLACKHEADS ON BABY'S FACE DUE TO WRONG FOOD

A Mother writes:

"Some weeks ago a mother wrote you whose baby was suffering with blackheads. My first baby was so afflicted and we found the cause to be the artificial food we were using. The child's cheeks were a perfect mass, but during the time I nursed the child he had a skin like a roseleaf.

"I took the baby to a doctor who said the food we were using was killing the baby, and after I put him on a formula of milk, water and sugar the skin cleared up within three weeks.

"I think, don't you Mrs. Eldred, that cows' milk is the best substitute for mother's milk? I have been noticing blackheads on babies ever since and have noted that the child was always being fed on a prepared food. Mothers are rather apt, too, to make a spoonful 'heaping' instead of level and the baby suffers. I always enjoy your column so much."

ANSWER

It would be a mistake to make too sweeping a statement about artificial foods, because some of them are exceedingly useful when used with milk. Also just recently a mother wrote me saying she had noted that cases of blackheads in babies were due to too much cream in the formula. So, just as in every case of feeding, the baby suffers from what is wrong in his particular case, though the same thing might not affect another child at all. Yes, I do think that milk, water and some form of sugar is absolutely and always the best substitute for mother's milk, if we must have a substitute. But sometimes we have to use skimmed milk for babies, or sour milk, or a cereal water instead of so much sugar and so on. The food has to be adjusted to the child. And I think you are quite right when you say that mothers do not follow directions. If a level spoonful seems too little to them they heap it up, which really makes two level spoonfuls and then if the baby shows the effect of too much sugar and starch they fail utterly to attribute it to the real cause, which is that they are really doubling the amount to be used.

These letters about blackheads are intensely interesting, because many babies seem to suffer from them and I have never found the condition discussed anywhere in literature on babies. So we just have to conclude that there is something wrong with the baby's food, and that may mean too little food, too much food, the wrong food and so on, that is causing these blackheads. In this particular, it is very similar to eczema.

Prisoner Used Plane to Escape

Buenos Ayres, June 26—Major Baldessare, an Argentine army officer who, in a few days, was to begin a twenty-year sentence for shooting a man, and who escaped last Sunday, is believed to have got away in an aeroplane after leaving the barracks where he was confined, disguised as a woman.

The major, suspected of having accepted a bribe to exempt youths from military service, shot the investigating officer in the back and was court-martialed and sentenced to twenty years imprisonment on an island, for which he was to leave on the next ship.

During visitors' hour on Sunday it is suspected that a woman's clothes were smuggled in and that he walked out with a group of women visitors, entered an automobile nearby and then was spirited away by aeroplane to an unknown destination.

REDS NOW FALTERING IN SLUMP

Drop Another Game to St. Louis 5-3 and Appear Headed For Second Division

Giants Move Into Second Place With Double Win; Senators Take Twin Bill

A second division berth looms for the Cincinnati Reds unless Hendricks can pull his faltering crew together within the next few days.

The Reds went East leading the National League a few weeks ago and managed to hold up during most of the eastern invasion despite injuries to several regulars.

Then they ran into a slump in the most unlikely place in the circuit, Philadelphia. Since that time they have lost ten games in twelve starts and to-day were only three points ahead of the fifth place Brooklyn Robins.

The Reds lost ground they ill could afford yesterday when the Cards' steam roller crushed its way to a five-three victory in eleven innings. The steam roller was late getting into operation, mainly because Eppa Rixey, of the Reds, was having one of his good days. He pitched on even terms with Jess Haines, until the eleventh when the storm broke. Jim Bottomley, main spring of the Cardinals' attack, started the rally with his twenty-third double of the season. Soon the bases were filled and Chick Hafey tripled, scoring himself when Picinich let the throw-in roll through his legs. Cincinnati got one of these four runs back in their half but it did nothing more than prove that Cincinnati's head may be bloody but still unbowed. It was the Cards' twenty-first victory in their last twenty-seven games.

The New York Giants moved into second place with a double victory over the Phillies 12 to 4 and 8 to 2.

LINDSTROM HITS WELL

Bill Walker, Denver southpaw, was an easy winner in the second game. Fred Lindstrom got nine hits in eleven times up.

Brooklyn hit Cantwell hard and chalked up their fourth straight win at the expense of the Braves 9-3.

The Washington Senators now playing the kind of baseball that had been expected of them, beat the Athletics twice at the capital 3-2 and 7-2. Washington's fifteen victories in the last twenty-one games have brought them from the cellar to fourth place in the standing. The Athletics double defeat enabled the idle Yankees to increase their American League lead to 9½ games.

The Tigers again moved into the cellar while Chicago was moving out when the Sox batted out an 8-6 victory at Detroit.

Morgan's homer, one of five during the game, gave Cleveland a 7-4 victory over the Browns at St. Louis.

OLD-TIMERS TAKE FIRST

Come From Behind to Defeat Eagles 7-4 in Senior Amateur League Ball Game

Old-Timers hung up their first victory in the Senior Amateur Baseball League last night by taking the Eagles into camp 7-4, in a real exciting game. The veterans surprised themselves and everybody else by their fine exhibition.

The defeat put a crimp in the championship hopes of the lodgemen. They have been trailing the Sons of Canada, league leaders, pretty close, but last night's trouncing puts them farther in the rear.

In the first inning the Old-timers checked home one run. Nex poled out a triple and came home on Nachtrieb's sacrifice. The Eagles grabbed a one run lead in the second inning. "Tucker" James got one that went for three bases, scoring George Gandy who had walked. Donc crashed out a single, scoring James.

VETS TAKE LEAD

Not to be outdone the veterans scored enough runs in the fourth to again take a one run lead. In the seventh the lodgemen came from behind to take a one run advantage.

In eighth the Old-timers went on the rampage, scoring enough runs to win. Bert Nex, who had been hitting the ball hard all evening, started off with a double. He scored on a single by Potts. The latter went to third when James fumbled Nachtrieb's grounder to second. Potts came home on Given's single. Quinn, the next hitter, also hit safely, Nachtrieb and Givens crossing the plate.

Thompson making his first appearance on the mound for the Old-timers pitched good ball, allowing nine hits while he struck out seven. Eric Whitehead took the mound for the Eagles, being touched up for nine hits, while he struck out five.

Bert Nex led the hitters for the night with three hits out of four trips to the plate, including a triple and a double.

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—England won the first cricket test match with the West Indies to-day at Lords by an innings and 58 runs.

Roach and Small continued the West Indians second innings this morning. The overnight score was 55 for six wickets.

Tate and Freeman bowled for England and Small found both of them easy. He gave a fine display for nearly an hour. Roach was the first to depart, bowled by Tate. He finally over-reached himself trying to lift Freeman for a boundary and was bowled.

CHICAGO PRO ECLIPSES FIELD

Al Espinosa Burns Up Lakewood Course to Take Lead in Mid-American Tourney

Kansas City, Mo., June 26.—Al Espinosa, Chicago pro, completely eclipsed the fine field in the second round of the Mid-American open golf tournament at Lakewood yesterday, and ended with 142, six strokes in the lead.

Aided by a hole-in-one on the 145-yard fifth, Espinosa burned up the wooded course to shear four from par with 68, which set a new course record.

Leo Diegel was second with 148, his 74 yesterday matching that of Sunday, both being two above par 72.

The errant international threat in the National open still threatens here with Archie Compston, of England, third with 149, and Aubrey Boomer had 37-38—75 to match Sunday's score. Compston shot par golf in the opening round.

Trailing far behind were the muffled big guns of the tournament, Johnny Farrell, the new National open champion; Walter Hagen, British open champion, and Gene Sarazen, British open runner-up. Hagen took 42-38—81 to run his total to 155.

Johnny Farrell who, with Sarazen, arrived late yesterday and played thirty-six holes to catch up with the field, wound up his third day of thirty-six-hole tournament play and his fifth of torrid competition with 153, in a seven-way tie for ninth place.

Franks Shields Wins State Title

Wilmington, Del., June 26.—Frank Shields of New York, national junior tennis champion, added the Delaware state title to his list yesterday by defeating Wilmer Allison, University of Texas, intercollegiate titleholder, after four hard-fought sets. The scores were 10-12, 7-5, 6-1, 6-1.

Wizards From the West—By Jimmy Thompson

Western Canada is steadily becoming a greater and greater factor in Canada's sports. The western athletes who will step on the track at the end of the week at Hamilton have stellar performances to their credit. One of the best known is Buster Brown of Edmonton, Alberta, the speedy eighteen-year-old high school lad, who won the championship of his province. Buster had a margin of five yards at the finishing line and covered the century in the remarkable time of 9 8-10 seconds.

At the last national Canadian meet held at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, Brown arrived on the train on the morning of the race and entered his event in the afternoon without any workout. He finished fourth in the race, regardless of his handicap. This created a great deal of interest among the critics as to the merits of this boy, and he is looked upon in the East as a comer.

Brant Little is another western boy who should still be good, and in the running to collect to little more silverware. He was Manitoba's champion in 1926 and 1927. At the Canadian meet last Fall he ran third to Moe Mitchell of Toronto. In 1926 he was the Canadian champion, and if he is in good condition should be in the running at this year's trials this week at Hamilton.

SOFTBALL

Marigold practically cinched the championship of the Westholme Softball League last night by defeating The Times team 10-1 at the Victoria West Park.

The game was one of the best seen in the league this season. For six innings the teams played bang-up ball but in the last of the seventh the newsies cracked badly, and Marigold scored five runs. In the next inning the winners drove home another five tallies to pinch the game. The Times scored their lone run in the fifth inning.

The Colonist suffered an unexpected defeat at the hands of the Crescents, being beaten 23-9. Langford won their game from the Wilfert Lumber Company by default.

In a City League fixture played last night the Adanacs' ladies' softball team defeated St. Saviour's, 41-11.

MONTFERRAT WINS HANDICAP

Captures Feature Attraction at Aqueduct; Rolled Stocking Winner at Latonia

New York, June 26.—Well played at 6 to 1, the Sagamore Stable's Montferrat captured the Speculation Claiming Handicap, $3,000 added, feature attraction at Aqueduct yesterday. The five-year-old son of Maboul and Constance d'Antioche took an early lead, withstood a closing challenge by Stretcher and Croyden and won by half a length in a driving finish. Stretcher closed fast to get the place by a head from Croyden with Devonshire fourth. The race was worth $4,150. The time for the mile was 1.39.

The Cirrius Handicap, co-feature of the day, went to Buddy Bauer of the Idle Hour Stock Farm with Filemaker second and John Cavanagh third.

J. W. Parrish's Rolled Stocking romped away in easy fashion with the feature at Latonia, the Douglas Terrace Handicap, three year olds and upward, over the mile and one-sixteenth. Royal Julian was second and Rhinock third. Rolled Stocking took a four length lead on the field soon after the race started, and maintained this advantage to the stretch, where Crump eased up on his mount, Royal Julian came fast and took the place, half a length in the rear of the winner. The time was 1.51 1-5.

Belle of Govans won the Mountain Valley Stake for two-year-olds, worth $2,000 at Hamiston. The place went to Pin Wheel with Equation third. The five furlongs was covered in 1.01 3-5.

HEENEY WILL BE DANGEROUS

Tunney Thinks New Zealander Will Be More Formidable Than Jack Dempsey

Speculator, N.Y., June 26. — Gene Tunney believes that Tom Heeney may prove to be an even more dangerous opponent than was Jack Dempsey at Chicago.

Training here for his title match with the New Zealand blacksmith at New York, July 26, Tunney pointed out that in a decision bout of fifteen rounds Heeney was certain to be dangerous.

"Information from competent observers is to the effect that Heeney, a rugged boxer, will be more formidable than Dempsey was," said the champion. "I do not believe that Heeney can punch as hard as Dempsey, but in a fifteen-round contest in which the shifting of the crown might depend on decision, Heeney certainly is a more dangerous opponent than Dempsey would be."

Tacoma Ace Eliminated From P.N.W. Tennis Play By Seattle Player

Mrs. Grigor and Marie McNab Suffer Unexpected Defeat in Clay Court Play

HUNTER'S DEFEAT SENSATION

American Ace Put Up Great Fight Against New Zealand Youngster

William Tilden and George Lott Scored Easy Victories in To-day's Play

London, June 26.—Tennis experts commenting in the morning papers to-day viewed the defeat of Francis T. Hunter of the United States in the English tennis singles championship, as the dramatic sensation of the Wimbledon tournament.

The experts were no less surprised than pleased at the New Zealander, Ed. Andrews' victory over Hunter, which was the only bright ray in what was admitted to be a bad day for Britain.

Although Andrews won fame on the tennis courts in New Zealand and at Cambridge University, it was his first appearance at Wimbledon and those acquainted with his form said that he never played so well.

While some critics thought that Hunter was somewhat below his best form, others said he did nothing unworthy of his great reputation but met a greater player who showed himself possessed of the strategy of a champion. Hunter at the same time received a full measure of praise for the astonishing manner in which he kept his head and rallied his forces.

Wimbledon, June 26.—William T. Tilden and George M. Lott of the United States Davis Cup team, who have yet to lose a set in the English championship tournament, scored easily to-day in the second round of play.

After Tilden had defeated H. C. Fisher, young Oxford University student from Burma, by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-1, Lott downed H. K. Lester, captain of the Cambridge University team last year, by 6-1, 7-5, 7-5.

Another favorite to win to-day was Baron H. L. De Morpurgo, Italian ace, who downed D. H. Williams, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Rain interrupted play shortly after it started, but the shower soon ceased.

Gerald L. Patterson, Australian veteran, displayed excellent form in disposing of the German, Dr. S. Kleinschroth, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. The defending champion, Henri Cochet, of France, taking matters rather easily at first, was extended in the final set to defeat the Australian, Hopman, 6-1, 6-4, 8-6.

The Argentine forces broke even. Ronald Boyd eliminated the Englishman Pitt, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5, but his countryman, W. Robson, was put out by Capt. C. H. D. O'Callighan, Irish star, 7-5, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

Soccer Entries Must Be Handed In by Thursday

Thursday, June 28, is the final day and date for filing entries for the five-a-side football competitions which will be staged as the opening event of the sports programme of the Dominion Day celebration. Teams wishing to compete should file their entry with L. G. Gray, 2826 Blackwood. The committee will meet at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday to make the draw.

Silver cups presented by the Dominion Day celebration committee will go to the winners in each class. A number of junior and senior clubs have already signified their intention of entering the competition which is expected to prove very popular with soccer fans.

The competitions will be held at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, June 30, at 2.30 o'clock. Following the final the prizes will be presented by Lester Patrick.

HORSE RACING

Arlington Heights, Chicago, June 26.—Summer showers that fell intermittently did not keep the sport followers home yesterday. Those who back the favorites were at the pay stations oftener than the long shot backers, despite unusually heavy going. Several thoroughbreds that like the wet delivered. Blushing Maiden, who has been floundering among many classes of platers since the opening of the season, turned in a sparkling performance in the second. "Mite" Meyers had only to give her her head and she won all the way. Jim Bridger also turned in his first win here. Results follow:

First race—Six furlongs: 1, Ted Healy (Woolf), $7.40, $3.90, $2.60; 2, Sandy Lady (Warden), $4.10, $2.60; 3, Elfkin (Trotsik), $3.10. Time, 1.19.

SPORTS FEATURE AT ARMY CAMP

Soldiers to Have Field Day July 1 at Work Point

The militia men of the brigade camp, which is to be held at Macaulay Point from Friday, June 29, to Monday, July 2, have planned a monster military sports meet, to take place on Sunday afternoon, July 1, at Work Point Barracks.

This meet should prove one of the most interesting events of the Dominion Day celebrations and one of the most keenly contested affairs of its kind ever held in Victoria, as there are approximately 1,200 men attending camp from which athletes bearing the colors of their respective units will be selected. Every one of the six regiments at camp are placing a strong list of entries in the field and are vieing with one another for the major honors of the meet.

Due to the kind assistance of the permanent force at Work Point Barracks the parade grounds are being measured off into the required distances, and everything is being done that can be done to have these tracks in good shape for sports day.

Word has been received from the president of brigade sports at Vancouver that a number of excellent prizes have been presented for the various events. Through the generosity of the Brigade Major, Lieut.-Colonel A. Leslie Coote of Vancouver, a handsome grand aggregate cup has been given for the unit receiving the highest number of points at the meet. This will be the most coveted prize of the day, and it is needless to say that every athlete will put forth his greatest effort that his battalion may have the honor of possessing this trophy. This will be a perpetual trophy and will be representative of the highest honor in militia sports in the Province. An individual cup has also been graciously presented for the athlete securing the highest number of points. This is not to be a perpetual cup. A number of other prizes have been presented for the fortunate winners.

The starters and judges will consist of G.O.C. Brigadier-General McNaughten, the G.S.O. Lieut-Colonel Pearkes, the Brigadier, Colonel R. S. Tobin, the Brigadier-Major, Lieut.-Colonel A. Leslie Coote, and the commanding officers of the regiments.

In connection with the sports programme, a Lewis gun competition will be held on Saturday afternoon at Heal's range. Each unit is placing a team of six men in the field for this competition. To each member of the most proficient team there will be a cash prize of $2.50, and each member of the team taking second place will receive $1.50. These prizes have generously been presented by the Brigadier, Col. H. S. Tobin of Vancouver.

The complete list of field events for the Sunday afternoon programme is as follows—

100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, high jump, 440-yard race, 880-yard race, hop, skip and jump; running broad jump, relay race, three-legged race, tug of war and soft ball.

Points—First, three points; second, two points; third, one point.

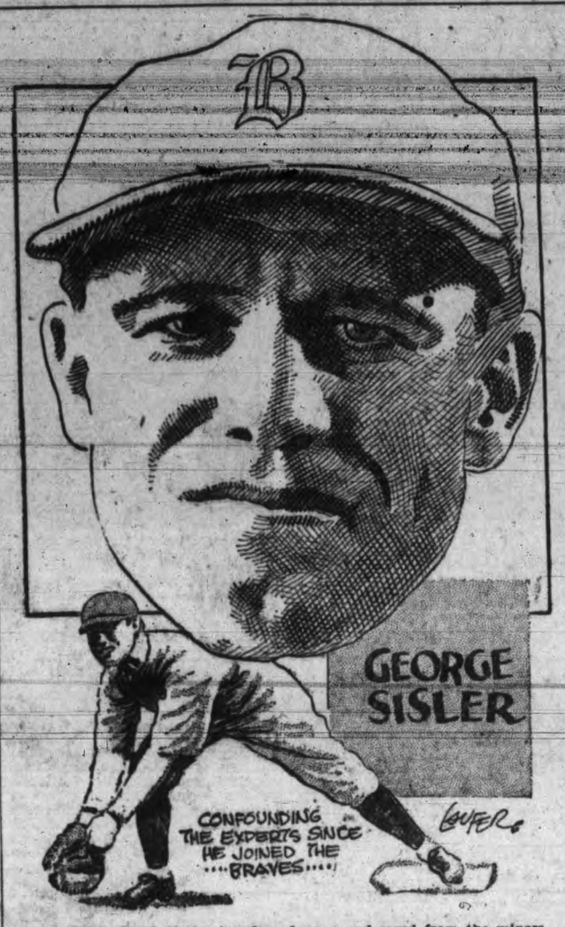
Lacrosse Teams To Battle For Provincial Title

Followers of the gutted stick game are promised a first-class exhibition on Monday, July 2, when Maple Leafs, of Vancouver, clash with the Oaklands Senior Public School team at the Royal Athletic Park at 3 o'clock. The game, which is for the junior championship of British Columbia, is being played in conjunction with the Dominion Day celebration.

The Mainlanders are rated as one of the sweetest machines in the Province. The local squad, which has been trained under "Bob" McInnes, veteran coach, is without doubt one of the classiest aggregations of stickhandlers ever assembled in this city. The championship at present rests with the locals, and needless to say they will be out to retain the honors.

SENSATIONAL WORK OF SISLER PROVES BOON TO BRAVES



Waived out of the American League and saved from the minors by a friendly hand from an unexpected quarter, George Sisler is attracting attention by the fine game he is playing on first base for the Boston Braves.

Four years ago Sisler was one of the most valuable players in baseball. He could not have been bought for a quarter of a million dollars, but at the height of his career he was stricken with sinus trouble and his career was almost ended.

Last Winter the Washington Senators bought him from the St. Louis Browns for a song and he was slated for a regular job, but he was benched and waivers were asked upon him. He was on his way out of the major leagues when he happened to meet Rogers Hornsby. He told Hornsby he felt sure he had a lot of baseball in him.

Hornsby was then made manager of the Braves and his first act was to claim Sisler and put him to work. Sisler may not make a pennant winner out of the Braves, but he has improved the club and Hornsby is improving it with other wise trades.

PACERS OPEN THEIR SEASON

Opening Day's Racing Featured By Defeat of Last Year's Great Colts

Toledo, Ohio, June 26. — Favorites were raced into defeat in the opening programme of the Grand Circuit at Fort Miami Park here yesterday afternoon, and in one event three of the great colts of 1927 were badly beaten with one hopelessly distanced in the first heat.

A large crowd braved thereatening skies and a chilly breeze to see the inaugural.

Colonel Strong, whose daddy, Col. Armstrong, was a Grand Circuit star before him, raced to a straight heat victory in the feature three-year-old pace. C. Valentine brought the second choice gelding home with plenty to spare in each of the heats, winning the opener in 2.04¼.

The favored Belvolo was distanced and Red Pluto, champion two-year-old in 1927, was eighth. Air Silk, which won ten consecutive races on Western tracks last year, was third in his Grand Circuit debut.

Thais Direct, with E. Edman teaming, won the open pace in straight heats.

The feature of the programme, the 2.22 trot went to Hollywood Colin, which won the first two heats and finished second to Peter Morton, the longest shot of the day, in the third. Royal Guy, home bred gelding, was the favorite.

Watch the Feet Of Opponent

By GEORGE M. LOTT, JR.

The player who guesses what is coming next has a distinct advantage over his opponent. Nothing is more discouraging than to find your shots coming back because your opponent was waiting for them.

A man who anticipates keenly does nothing more than watch his opponent's feet. You always see Bill Tilden waiting to make his shots simply because he watches his opponent's feet.

The secret of being able to anticipate well by watching the feet is in watching the direction in which they point. That will give the shot away. All you have to do is to draw a line connecting the two feet together and continue it toward the net. The ball will go in that direction. If your opponent makes his shots with his feet parallel to the net there is no way of telling except that in most cases the ball will go the shortest distance, which is straight down the line. However, such shots have little deception.

Being able to guess the next shot is of immense value. It enables one to shift racket, to get in position quickly and, most important of all, to plan the next shot. In other words, it puts you one play ahead of the other fellow.

Watching the feet is a very simple matter. It soon becomes second nature. You can look at the feet a full three seconds before the ball is hit and that gives you plenty of time to get in place and to also figure out your next shot. If your opponent sees you move over to get his shot he may attempt to change, but if he does his shot will not be an effective one because he has to change his feet and also his timing. Nevertheless the keenest anticipators do not move over until the last moment, but they have their return planned.

PLAYER'S MIND IS FREE FROM MENTAL HAZARDS WHEN PLAYING COURSE FOR FIRST TIME

I am sure it has been a source of wonder to many how even a first-class golfer can go out in an exhibition on a course he has never before seen, and equal or beat par the first time around. I remember watching Leo Diegel shoot a sixty-five over the Louisville Country Club course the day after the National Open at Detroit. He had never played the course before, yet his score was two or three strokes better than the course record.

In playing various charity matches I myself have gained a little experience along that line. I have found that if the putting greens are good and the distances not too hard to judge, I almost always play a course better the first time than I do for the next four or five rounds. It is one of those phenomena which are hard to explain without resorting to some speculation.

WORRIES DETRACT FROM GAME

When the player is familiar with the course and has played it many times, as each hole comes up to be played, it is natural, I think, for him to conjure up in his mind visions of the ways in which he has encountered trouble on that hole. He will remember how he sliced his second shot into a trap and took a six or seven. Then as he hits the ball he will be determined to avoid the trap at all costs. There is then a part of his concentration taken up with something he ought not to do, and that is so much taken away from the ability to play the stroke correctly.

When playing a course for the first time, there are no unpleasant recollections coming up to spoil the shot. The player usually sees only the flag and the green, and if his glance does fall upon a guarding bunker it is only for a moment. The hazards are all a part of the background, instead of being in the centre of the picture.

LET TROUBLE TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The ability to hit the shot for the flag and to let trouble take care of itself is a rare attribute among golfers. I think it is one of the chief fortes of Walter Hagen and Harry Cooper. Neither appears to give a thought to what may happen to the shot. I am sure that they see only the green as a possible destination for the ball.

I suppose it is some complex of this sort that has caused me to find upon every course at least one hole that I simply cannot play. I get into trouble on it once and after that I always get into trouble, almost always in a different way. There are four bunkers around the sixth green at Oakmont. I think I got into all of them during the four rounds of the tournament last year.

SEA LIONS KILLED OFF

Northern Salmon Industry Being Freed of Menace

The Canadian patrol cruiser Givenchy killed off 1,142 sea lions in the campaign which has just closed for the year, acording to Machine Gun Officer W. E. Maiden of the Givenchy, which has just returned from the annual hunting expedition in Queen Charlotte waters.

The campaign to reduce the numbers of sea lions is proving most effective, and this pest of the salmon fishing industry is being brought under control. The number of lions killed this year was 400 below the mark of last year and 500 under that attained in 1926.

Off the West Coast of Vancouver Island, on the Solander Rocks, the twenty-four members of the crew of the Givenhy destroyed 103 sea lions, while 1,039 were killed in the Virgin and Pearl Islands districts. Machine guns and rifles are used to kill the sea lions.

Indicating the reduction in the herds, and the success of the control campaign, Mr. Maiden reports that this year only two pups were seen at the populous Pearl Islands colony.

HONORS GIVEN TWO IN LONDON

Duke of Connaught and Lord Lonsdale Central Figures at Events

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—To-day was a notable occasion for two men long famous in Britain.

The Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his entry into the army by entertaining the members of the Army Council of Great Britain. The Duke, who recently observed his seventy-eighth birthday, enjoys wonderful health and fulfills a constant series of engagements, although he has eliminated evening engagements.

In the international horse show ring at Olympia, London, to-day the Prince of Wales presented Lord Lonsdale, the Empire's "Prime Minister of Sport," with a "gift from all the world, commemorative of his golden wedding." The gift to the peer, who is perhaps best known for his love of the turf, comprised a golden casket with eight panels, representing hunting, racing, steeplechasing, coursing, boxing, shooting, stalking and yachting.

MANY SUBSCRIBED

The subscribers included all classes from laborers to millionaires, and their contributions ranged from twenty-five cents to $500. The big balance left after purchase of the gift is being devoted by Lord and Lady Lonsdale to charity.

The actual anniversary of the wedding takes place to-morrow and the dinner party to be given by the couple will be attended by the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York and Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles. For the first time the King and Queen will witness a cabaret performance, such as will be given at the party.

Many handsome anniversary gifts come from the many tenants of Lord Lonsdale's estate at Penrith, his holdings totaling 175,000 acres.

LANGFORD WILL MARK HOLIDAY

Swimming, Diving and Novelty Races Arranged For July 2

Langford, June 26.—A sports and gala afternoon for the children of the district will be held at Langford Lakkeside on Monday, July 2.

Swimming, diving and novelty races are being planned and prizes will be awarded. Two new spring boards and a high diving board have been installed.

A dance was held on Saturday night at Langford Lakeside, many visitors from Victoria and the surrounding districts being present.

The electric light has been extended along Station Road and Dunford Avenue as far as the Women's Institute Hall.

A sale of work run by children under the supervision of Miss Helen Newbury, who has conducted a weekly sewing class for them, will be held on Wednesday, July 4, at the home of Mrs. W. T. Dixon, Bryn Mawr Farm. A home cooking and candy stall with many other attractions are being planned by the energetic young people.

A delightful afternoon was spent on Saturday by the New Thought Temple Ladies' Club of Victoria visiting the Summer home of Mrs. H. Catterall, Leigh Road, Langford Lake. Bathing and boating were enjoyed, while tea on the veranda overlooking the lake added to the pleasure of the visitors. Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Barton, pastor of the I.T. Church, and Mrs. Kirick, president of the Ladies' Club, were among the party.

Despite the heat many good sets of tennis were played on the new courts on Saturday. Tea was served by Mrs. H. A. Hihcks, Miss Cecily Setchfield and Miss Ada Simpson.

Mrs. David Willson of Millstream Road, is receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter in the Jubilee Hospital on June 22.

This evening the Harmony girls' softball nine will play the Langford nine on the Goldstream Road diamond.

The annual school picnic will be held on Thursday afternoon at the Finlayson Arm Flats.

Finlayson Arm Flats were visited by crowds of happy picnickers and merry parties of bathing and paddling children on Sunday.

Luxton

Luxton, June 26.—Percy Wright has returned to Saskatoon after a short holiday spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright. Mr. Wright visited other points on the Island also.

All the Summer cottages are now open on Glen Lake, the residents having many guests over the week-end. Splendid swimming facilities are greatly enjoyed by all. Enjoying the hospitality of Glendale Cabin were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mee, of Victoria, also Miss Eva Powell and Fred Smith, of Vancouver, B.C.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Barker and children are again resident at their Happy Valley home. Dr. Barker is returning to Seattle early in the week.

The annual school picnic for the pupils of the Happy Valley School will be held at Witty's Beach, Thursday, June 28. Transportation is being arranged, cars leaving the school at 10 a.m. An excellent programme of sports is being arranged also.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK

Mexico City, June 26.—A passenger train from Laredo to Mexico City was wrecked yesterday morning near Vivorillas, a few miles east of Queretario. Both the fireman and engineer were killed and several passengers were injured. The wreck occurred when the train struck a section where rails had been removed, presumably by insurgents.

OUT OUR WAY —By WILLIAMS

Young Man in Love—Now Michel Allen Gets the Real Thing

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

So Michael Arlen is married! That's fine. Just one more skeptic converted at last and kneeling at Hymen's altar for his blessing.

Of course, Mr. Arlen wasn't exactly a scoffer, but if one may judge by his books, marriage was not man's chief end by any means, or woman's either, although that did not exclude romance. Romany roads to romance have been his strong point in all of his books and plays.

In these days of ultra-sophistication and countless standards of conduct, the marriage of an author such as Mr. Arlen can result in nothing but good. That it was performed by a Russian priest in the best Russian manner, and that a chorus of honest-to-goodness Cossacks sung Russian hymns with impressive solemnity did not make it any different from the simple little home ceremony in which Mary promises to honor and obey John till death do them part.

Marriage is marriage, the natural state of man and woman since the world began, and, I hope, until the world ends.

At a recent conference of a welfare organization in the South, one speaker of national reputation remarked: "In spite of all the limitation and difficulties in family life to-day, social workers have come to the opinion that monogamy, or marriage with one wife, is biologically and socially sound."

Of course it is. That is the trouble with books written to the contrary. So often authors of books and plays that convey erotic ideas personally hold ideals of life, for themselves, that are clean and straight and wholesome. Old-fashioned, we may say.

Mr. Arlen is not the first author who has belied his own fiction.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ward One Liberals will hold their regular meeting in the Liberal headquarters Wednesday evening, at 8 p.m. Dr. Lewis Hall will address the meeting. All Liberals are requested to attend, as important business matters are to be discussed.

Victoria representation at the July 4 celebrations in Seattle, sought by the Mayor of that city, was left in the hands of Mayor J. C. Pendray and Alderman James Adam by the City Council last night. The city will not send a float, but may send a band, it was intimated.

The gasoline launch Pauline, formerly owned by an inmate of the Old Men's Home, was sold by the City Council last night to W. S. Woods for the sum of $170. The launch is of the Fraser River type, fitted with a five horse power engine, and adapted for fishing.

The investment of $26,500 of sinking funds in City of Victoria debentures to yield five per cent, through A. E. Ames & Company was authorized by the City Council last night at the request of its finance committee. A small block of $1,000 will be invested through the B.C. Bond Corporation in similar securities to yield an equivalent rate.

Dominion Day holiday excursion rates will be offered on all its ferry routes by the Puget Sound Navigation Company effective Sunday and Monday, July 1 and 2. Tickets purchased on July 1 will be good for return trips on the last ferries leaving Mainland ports on July 2, it is announced by E. E. Blackwood.

The mid-week Summer programmes of the Victoria fire department's band at city parks will open on Wednesday with a concert in Stadacona Park, to commence at 7.30 p.m., the City Council was informed last night. The firemen play a voluntary series of concerts each year, chosing different parks for their entertainment. An invitation to the council to be present at the opening concert was received, and will be acknowledged.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's, Esquimalt, Sunday school and Bible classes will be held on Saturday next. On the following day the school and Bible classes assemble for the closing session before Summer vacation. The picnic will be held at Lang Beach, Loxe Point, Esquimalt, where children will assemble at 2.30, bringing lunch, bathing suit, towel and cup. Tea and milk will be provided. Parents and friends are invited.

School closing exercises at Esquimalt public school will be held in the school auditorium Friday at 10.30, when the programme will be as follows: "O Canada"; address, by the chairman of the school board; presentation of hygiene and home nursing certificates by Miss Hodge, director Junior Red Cross; address by Rev. Mr. Patterson; presentation of honor rolls and school board prizes by the chairman and members of the Esquimalt Board of School Trustees. God Save the King.

A novel and amusing feature has been added to the programme of the Dominion Day celebration by the appearance down town on Saturday night of "King Carnival." Just an everyday citizen known to his fellow townsfolk in almost every walk of life this gentleman will be the man of the moment, in fact a much sought after character. When approached in the right manner he will make known his identity much to the satisfaction of the inquirer. Concealed in his coat pocket "King Carnival" will have the prize donated by the committee for this event, which he will hand over to the amateur Sherlock Holmes.

The Britannia Branch of the British Empire Service League will hold its annual picnic at Cordova Bay, McMorran's Beach on Dominion Day and a good attendance of members and friends is promised according to the present returns. There will be sports commencing at 12.30 noon, for everybody, this being one of the most popular features of the picnic last year. Supper will be served and followed by a dance in the pavilion. The Britannia branch orchestra will provide the latest dance hits. Members and their friends will be transported by bus both to and from town but all members who have cars are requested to communicate with the chairman of transportation committee to facilitate arrangements. There will be further announcements regarding final arrangements in due course.

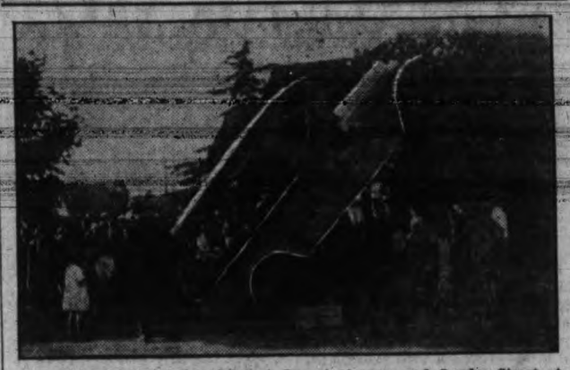
CLIMBS TREE TO SAVE CRASH



A collision of two automobiles at Queen's Avenue and Quadra Street at 6.30 p.m. Saturday, was averted only by the action of the driver of one car, a light delivery, in turning the car out across the boulevard. The momentum of the car resulted in it shinnying up a guide wire of a telephone pole near one of the boulevard trees as shown in the foregoing picture. No one was hurt and when a wrecking crew lowered the car to the ground, it was found that so little had happened to it that it was able to continue on its business.

CONSERVATIVES CONTINUE WAR OVER TICKET

Bitter Exchanges Feature Meeting of McBride Conservative Club

With a slate of four Conservative candidates for the provincial election named by a party convention, there broke out at last night's McBride Conservative Club meeting one of the most bitter discussions on nominees that has occurred over the choice of representatives.

The meeting voted that newspaper reporters should not be allowed to hear what was said.

Charges that the meeting had been packed were made openly as soon as President Pat Sinnott called the gathering to order in the Sons of England Hall.

At one side of the hall there sat a solid phalanx under Hugh Allan, and included a number of the leaders in the movement at the Conservative nominating convention last week which succeeded in having E. W. Maynard, the only labor nominee, kept off the party ticket here.

One man in Mr. Allan's party arose and moved that The Victoria Times representative be excluded from the meeting.

Capt. R. P. Matheson protested against it being made a closed meeting, declaring that Conservatives should have nothing to hide.

"These gentlemen who have come here to-night to pack this meeting are not members in good standing in this club, they haven't paid their dues and they haven't been near this club for years," President Sinnott said.

Other members arose and said that nothing should be given out to the newspapers about the goings-on in this Conservative club.

"If you want to exclude the representative of one party paper, I think it only fair that you should exclude the representative of the other party paper also," said Leonard Tait.

This suggestion of Mr. Tait that the press generally be excluded instead of just mentioning the Liberal press, was accepted by the meeting when it was put to a vote.

"I know that if this was a meeting of the Laurier Club the Conservative press would be excluded," Mr. Allan said.

HOWLING HOOLIGANS

Capt. Matheson made a vigorous denunciation of Capt. Harboard's Howling Hooligans," who had been packing the various Conservative meetings to put over the machine candidates, and declared that these "hooligans" had not given him a fair hearing at the recent Chamber of Commerce meeting.

"The Conservatives of Victoria are not going to be bludgeoned by a number of machine politicians," said D. B. Plunkett, who went on to raise the question as to whether any of the four Victoria Conservative members had ever threatened to run as independents if they were not put on the official ticket.

News clippings from The Colonist were read to prove that such threats had been made.

T. G. Coventry, ex-M.P.P., said that on behalf of other members he would admit that such had been the case.

Other speakers went on to denounce the political methods of those in control of the local organization. Particular attenion was paid by the speakers to Capt. Harboard, called the "ward boss." Some of the speakers denounced Capt. Harboard's "machine methods" and declared that he had gone over to the Conservative organization and assumed command only after being expelled from the Liberal party.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Capt. Thain moved a vote of confidence in Dr. Tolmie and the four Conservative city candidates. This resolution was passed by a majority of only two votes.

The result was protested on the grounds that persons who had not paid and were thus disqualified had been run in to vote for the resolution.

Mr. Tait asked why a vote of confidence in Dr. Tolmie and the four members was necessary. He said that the candidates had been chosen at the convention last week and he thought that was enough.

"There must be something the matter when we are always being asked to pass these votes of confidence in these men," Mr. Tait said.

An attack was then launched by the contingent under Mr. Allan and B. H. Green on the officers of the club.

Mr. Plunkett declared that the whole move of these men was "a mean, petty piece of politics, and was causing dissension."

The effort to pass a resolution for the deposing of the officers failed.

"I suggest that some of these men who have come in here to-night and packed this meeting come up here and pay their dues," said President Sinnott.

No one made any move.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance special evangelistic meetings will continue each evening this week, beginning to-night at 8 o'clock. Dr. E. J. Wesbeck, subject for to-night, is "The Sin of Rejecting the Holy Ghost," the personal representative of the Lord.

BRITISH FILMS FOR COLISEUM

For the purpose of presenting British pictures an option has been taken on the Coliseum Theatre by the British Better Pictures Producers Limited, J. O. Gray, president of the company announces. The company will take over the theatre next month, he says.

The Victoria Theatre will be the Canadian pioneer in this movement which is expected to extend throughout the Dominion. Seventy-five per cent of the actors' pay in British films he points out, will go to British players and scenarios will be bought from British subjects. A British picture for a British public written by a Britisher is the slogan of the company. The organization anticipates a hard struggle with the Hollywood concerns, but Mr. Gray was of the opinion that under the ruling of the British Cinematograph Films Act, to which his organization will adhere. The pictures produced will be good enough to insure the support of the public.

The new management will use the best United States films it can obtain until the supply of British films is assured.

PRESS PARTY SEE LOGGING

Vancouver, B.C., June 26.—Over one hundred Vancouver newspaper men and business representatives returned from Campbell River to-day after a cruise through the timber industry, from age-old forest to the reforestation areas left in the path of the slash.

Operations of the International Timber Company were viewed by the visitors, who were guests of the B.C. Loggers' Association. The voyage to Campbell River and return was made on the specially chartered Canadian Pacific boat Princess Maquinna. The party included W. J. Blake-Wilson, director of the C.P.R.; C. A. Cotterell, general superintendent in B.C.; F. J. Burd, managing director of The Vancouver Province; J. Edward Norcross, editor of The Vancouver Star; G. Walkem, A. Flavelle, T. A. Lamb, president of the Loggers' Association; Rev. Father O'Boyle and S. G. Smith.

Leaving Campbell River early Monday morning the party were transported by logging railway through great stands of Douglas fir and cedar, and saw topping, high rigging, felling, loading and other activities of a big camp. Particularly interesting were conservation methods and the effects to preserve and renew the timber stands.

NORTHWEST TO BE SCENE OF PROGRESS

Mayor M. J. Tennant of Tacoma Addresses Kiwanis Club

Goodwill Party of Tacomans Luncheon Guests at Empress Hotel

Speaking on behalf of the goodwill party of Tacomans which to-day visited Victoria by aeroplane, Mayor M. J. Tennant of Tacoma to-day addressed the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel, speaking on the development of the Northwest.

Mayor Tennant said that people of Victoria have beauties in their city which they cannot appreciate until they get up in the air. Similarly, the people are too close to the ground, and the great West has a future which is not yet appreciated by the residents. The stranger is going to gauge the opportunities of the Northwest by the knowledge shown by the people.

Mayor Tennant said that the greatest enjoyment in life is realized only by service given.

GLORIES REVIVING

The city of Tacoma is putting on a programme for industrial development, realizing the progress ahead of the Northwest. He recalled that Victoria was once the largest city in British Columbia and Tacoma the premier city of Washington state. He believed that boht communities had been outstripped because of lack of vision, but foresaw revival of progress in both cities.

Victoria has the same problems as Tacoma, he said, believing it is what the people do, their attitude towards progress, the spirit of aggression which advances a community.

NORTHWEST FOREMOST

"I want to be counted as using every bit of energy I possess to encourage development of our great Northwest," he said, suggesting that provision of free transportation to the East to doubters would convert them into hearty boosters.

Mayor Tennant closed with an invitation to all Victorians to visit Tacoma, and challenge to Mayor Pendray to a game of golf, which was promptly accepted.

FINE EXPERIENCE

As organizer of the goodwill tour, S. M. Jackson, president of the National Bank of Tacoma, described the delights of the air journey to Victoria, praising the skill of Pilot Alex Holden, native son of Victoria.

He recalled the days when the stores used to close afternoons in Summer time to enable the citizens to attend cricket games. Mr. Jackson referred to the similarity and friendly spirit between Tacoma and Victoria, both neighbored by very large cities.

The goodwill party included S. M. Jackson, president of the National Bank of Tacoma, who organized the visit; Robert M. Jackson, his son, automobile dealer; J. Frank Hickey, president of the Tacoma Hotel, and Mayor M. J. Tennant.

NEW MEMBERS

Dr. Wm. Russell introduced Kiwanians Geo. M. Hume and G. Fred Johnstone to the members, and extended them an official welcome.

APPEAL COURT TO CONTINUE INTO VACATION

C. P. Porter and Albert Marks Appeal Against Assize Court Trial

In an announcement made by Chief Justice Macdonald of the B.C. Court of Appeal to-day, the decision of Their Lordships to continue the present session into the long vacation, if need be, was confirmed. At the same time counsel would be given leave to apply for a withdrawal of cases now on the list with leave to file afresh for the October sessions of the court in Vancouver.

The long vacation opens in July, continuing for July and August. The present sittings of the court may extend into the holiday period, unless advantage is taken of the leave to set hearings now listed down for trial at the October term.

Rex versus C. P. Porter and Albert Marks, an appeal by two men convicted at the Vancouver Assizes on a charge of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the former brokerage business of Porter and Marks, opened with J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., for the appellants, and Major W. M. McKay for the respondent. A term of seven years' imprisonment was imposed by Mr. Justice Morrison at the trial in Vancouver.

Continuing for the Crown to-day, Major McKay submitted that the books of the firm showed that the accused had sold stocks when they had no stocks to sell, and that an arrangement existed to pay agents as high as from thirty to eighty per cent. on transactions.

Mr. Farris objected. There was no evidence that Marks had any connection with that, he said, while if such a fact had been proved he would agree that it was evidence of a proper conviction, but it had not been proved.

The particulars of the conspiracy given by the Crown on the proceedings included eighteen points, continued Major McKay. These allegations were that the accused represented themselves as owners of stock which they did not own; that they had no stocks or bonds in their possession; that they paid "dividends" on B.C.E.R. stock; that a system of paying dividends and issuing "profit cheques" existed; that other stock was taken as collateral; that an exorbitant commission was recognized; that stocks were sold above the current market price, and this was represented as the market price; that moneys paid by some clients were split three ways as commission; that funds were converted to other uses and other points named by the Crown at the time of the trial.

The Crown contended that where Marks sold stock that the client subsequently received a confirmation of the sale from the firm of Porter and Marks, continued Major McKay. Some of the collateral accepted in exchange had been taken and sold in Vancouver, he affirmed, submitting that all members of the syndicate had been fully apprised of what was going on. When the warrants were issued there were some who could not be found, and others, remaining, who would not tell what they knew, he alleged.

The hearing is proceeding, and involves two appeals, made on for the purpose of argument.

At the close of the action of Hodgkinson versus Martyn yesterday afternoon, judgment was reserved. A similar course was taken at the close of argument in the appeal of Peterson versus Millerd Packing Company Limited.

USE WASHINGTON JAMMING BERRIES

U.S. Fruit Used For Canning, Says Market Report; Prairie Conditions Bad

While British Columbia strawberry growers have suffered losses this year through inability to market their fruit, berries from Washington have been imported into Vancouver for jamming purposes, according to a report received by the Department of Agriculture here from J. A. Grant, B.C. Market Commissioner on the prairies. Mr. Grant adds that apparently the prairie fruit dealers are giving British Columbia strawberries more loyal support than has been accorded them in British Columbia itself.

BAD WEATHER

Bad weather conditions, impassable roads and a consequent drop in purchasing by the housewives of the prairies are combining to injure the sale of British Columbia strawberries, Mr. Grant said. He explained that these conditions had been largely responsible for the disappointing sale of British Columbia berries. In addition, he said, the poor quality of some berry shipments, due to bad weather here, had impeded sales, but added that prairie brokers were doing their best to stimulate the purchasing of the British Columbia product.

Moresby appears for the appellant, and C. L. Harrison for the respondent.

STOCK MARKETS — FINANCIAL NEWS — GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, June 25.—Wheat: The wheat market was more or less dull again to-day with prices mostly somewhat lower. Exporters and seaboard houses were apparently out of the market export sales overnight and again this morning being confined to a few odd lots. Pit operations for the greater part of the session consisted of spreading operations, and the July month suffered from the unwinding of a spread, which involved selling of July against purchases of October, the July going to a discount of ⅞ cent under the October.

There was also a fair spreading business between here and Chicago, buying Winnipeg October and December against Chicago September and December. There appeared to be plenty of wheat for sale on the slight upturns, but very little pressure on the recessions. The cash market was extremely quiet with very little of anything going on. Offerings continued on the light side and spreads were all unchanged, except some of the tough grades which were quoted ¾ lower. The lack of export demand was reflected in the cash market. The market firmed up a little in the late trade, but was largely following Chicago.

The weather in the Winter wheat territory is still unsettled with further showers yesterday, and more precipitation forecasted for most of the belt. These rains are delaying harvest in some areas and causing some apprehension, but are possibly making more bushels in other districts which are a little later.

In Western Canada conditions continue ideal with light winds and moderate temperatures, just what is required following the heavy rains of last week. There were a few scattered showers in Alberta. Believe wheat can be sold on bulges for moderate profits. Winnipeg futures closed ⅜ to ⅞ higher, the late buying being practically all short covering.

Coarse grains: These markets recovered from early weakness to close at the top with shorts covering due to the upward swing in Chicago and the late recovery in wheat. The markets were mostly dull with demand quiet, slim, and no export business. Oats ⅜c to ⅝c higher, barely ⅛c to ½c higher and rye ¼c to ¾c higher.

Flax: Market continued dull and featureless, prices holding fairly steady, firming up in the late trade to close about unchanged.

Chicago, June 26.—Wheat: Continued rain with severe storms and hail in some sections is still the somewhat discouraging situation in that portion of the Winter wheat country to which we must look in the June promise to be realized. In spots where weather has permitted, harvest in full swing, but a comparison of reports southwest markets with figures for last year, shows some lateness of harvest.

If we can come through eventually with our total June promise of around 750,000,000 Spring and Winter wheat we shall be comfortable from a domestic standpoint, but shall not be able to make a contribution to foreign requirements in anything like the total of the year now closing. Europe admits a probable requirement of about the same size as each of the past two years and amount may be even greater unless more favorable harvest weather is experienced.

It is very unlikely that Canada will contribute any more than during the past year. We believe the world level lower than is justified by conditions in prospect.

Corn—For some weeks the selling has been of such a character and on such a scale that it would lead the seller to hesitate in our opinion. Available stocks have been constantly declining, and our market has been drawing a fair proportion corn which was piled up here.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, June 26 (By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"If the market has gained sufficient strength, as I believe it has, to rally in the face of the establishment of a 7 per cent call money rate then I believe the short interest will suddenly recall to mind a Wall Street adage that it never pays to be short of a dull market and suddenly become much more interested in covering short committments than conducting any further experiments in attempt to fore renewed liquidation, a manoeuvre which has met with no success for the past five market sessions.

"Advices from the the West are to the effect that the Bancitaly situation is practically cleared up and at least has spent its full effect from a stock market standpoint. Here and there are a few sore spots may remain, but once provision has been made to take care of the approximate $600,000,000 interest and dividend payments at the end of June, money rates will start downward and the market slowly start up.

"An old favorite, Texas and Pacific, is through to a new high record and incidentally the first new record established since the reaction started. Sears Roebuck will have little difficulty in duplicating the Texas and Pacific performance. All the copper group continues to act splendidly and this group with the oils and utilities will undoubtedly be among the first to exhibit actual advancing trends after the end of the week."

Wall Street To-day

(By B.C. Bond Corporation's Leased Wire)

New York, June 26—The Evening Edition of The Wall Street Journal says:—Money renewed at 6½ per cent and in the afternoon went to seven per cent, but in spite of that the market late in the session exhibited more life on the upside than it has shown for days. The firmness yesterday in the face of predictions of higher money mostly furnished a little encouragements and traders were somewhat more favorably inclined to the buying side. Some of them apparently believed that money would ease after the first of the month and took moderate positions in the buying side to-day, perhaps anticipating a recovery of several days duration. It was the better grade stocks which led the recovery of several issues such as: Gen. Elec., Gen. Motors, Montgomery Ward, Amn. Can., Sears Roebuck and Anaconda Smelters.

The statement showing that Gen. Motors sales in May had topped the 200,000 mark in the number of vehicles furnished some bullish ammunition as well as optimistic predictions by Chairman R. Skob as to the state of the automobile industry.

The last hour was the most active of the session.

Report Says One Of Italia's Men Known Killed

Spitzbergen, June 26—At least one of the seven men who were in the basket of the dirigible Italia and were carried off on May 25 without trace, is believed to have been killed in falling from a forward compartment. This was Vinko Pomella, motor attendant. Latest advices indicate he undoubtedly was killed in the fall. The fate of his companions in the bag, which was swept away from the Nobile group of nine on the ice, is unknown.

(Hitherto there have been no reports stating definitely that any of the crew of the Italia were killed).

The seven men who were carried away in the gas bag have not been heard from and confirmation as to Pomella's death has not been established here.

Okalta No. 3 will be spudded in as soon as possible and the diamond drill outfit is being rigged up for the completion of No. 1. Okalta No. 2 is producing in neighborhood of ninety barrels crude per day. Seneca Well in the northern portion of the valley is making excellent progress at 4,540 feet.

The diamond drill outfit for Spooner is on the rail at Okotoks but on account of condition of roads it is impossible to ship it to the field. Spooner No. 2 has lowered a 12½-inch casing to a depth of 2,750 feet on Saturday.

MONTREAL DEATH

Montreal, June 26.—Major Harold Poole Stanley, D.S.O., thirty-eight, well known in military, sport and insurance circles of Montreal, died suddenly last night after a three days' illness of diphtheria.

MINE MERGER IS ANNOUNCED

Vancouver, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—The amalgamation of Grandview and Z Canyon under the name of Grandview is announced on a basis of three shares of Z Canyon to two in the new company and Grandview one for one.

Capitalization of the company will be 3,000,000 shares with 2,500,000 issued and 550,000 in the treasury: par 50 cents. The new company will have about 580 acres. The equipment for a 500-ton mill is shipped and the foundations are in place. About sixty men will be put on the installation on arrival.

NORANDA SOARS AGAIN; HITS 40.00

Toronto, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—Noranda's star still continued to shine brightly in to-day's session on the Standard Exchange. This issue gave another sparkling performance in point of volume and points scored and maintained. Opening at 38.75 after considerable backing and filling, Noranda sold up to 39.90. One order in the share lot of five being sold at 40.00. Easing off to close at 39.20 to 39.30. Noranda sales for the day were 26,500 shares.

Teck Hughes still was subjected to urgent buying, moving up to 11.00, finishing in strong demand at 11.00 to 11.20.

Amulet was a small trader, and towards the close, accumulation forced the price up to 3.95, closing at 3.90 to 4.00. The Street heard a rumor in the last half hour of the session that Amulet had made an important strike. No details are as yet available.

Amity at 51, short of evidence of strong support, the closing price of 51 to 51¾ presages higher prices for this stock of the Boston Creek District.

Barry Hollinger and Kirkland Lake both gave weak performances, selling it down to 50 and 1.50 respectively, rallying to close at 59 to 60 and 1.53 to 1.54.

Bidgood at 69 was off 1, Arno at 28 to 28¾ was off 1.

Hudson Bay awoke from its lethargy and moved up smartly closing at 17.45 to 17.50, registering a 70 point gain for the day.

Mining Corporation, who are heavily interested in Hudson Bay, in addition to controlling the old United Verde Extension property adjoining Noranda, was subjected to consistent buying during the session, selling up to 3.40, and closing at 3.15 to 3.45.

Malartic now appears to be at a good buying level as the selling has apparently dried up. At 1.27 to 1.28 Malartic was strong and unchanged.

Considerable difference of opinion exists as to whether Wright Hargreaves will declare their next quarterly dividend of 5 cents per share. It is understood that the directors met yesterday but no official announcement has been made as to what is to be expected.

California Business Hit Hard By Bank of Italy Stock Break

New York, June 26.—Regarding the financial distress and the renewed setback on them by banks at the end of last week and the general slowing down of business, Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Bureau, to-day says:

"The situation on the Pacific Coast is admittedly acute, as that section has been heavily interested in the stock which has broken so badly. At the same time those whose views are entitled to respect are of the opinion that while almost every strata of local business and society are severely affected for many months to come, these breaks, marketwise, have just about exercised all the effect of which they are capable."

Market Break Fails to Disturb Bright Business Outlook Here

Montreal, June 26 (By Branson Brown)—Many of the people of the street are starting to take their holidays and more will be doing so right along now. Indications point to quite a period of comparative dullness, while the credit structure is undergoing alterations and repairs.

The break in the market has had no apparent effect upon general business, the outlook for which has seldom appeared brighter in this country, The Gazette said yesterday.

Progress Reports On Calgary Oils

Calgary, June 26 (By R. F. Castle).—The production test of Royalite No. 6 has so far been satisfactory. It is quite possible that the test will show over 200 barrels. Calmont have got a big flow of gas and it is confidently expected that the big production will come in early this week.

Calgary, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—Stockmen No. 2, depth 1,915 feet, drilling in harder formation.

British Dominion No. 2. Bad roads have held up hauling of material from No. 1 to No. 2.

It is expected that this company will get a start on the No. 2 well around July 15.

United is drilling north part of field running 15-inch casing at 300 feet.

Calmont is held up to some extent through having to change cables. Drilling again in hard band of rock.

Illinois-Alberta expects new diamond-drill rig in a day or two. No. 2 well is 2,172 feet in hard formation. No. 1 producing between 85 and 95 barrels.

Dalhousie No. 6 is drilling steadily; some reports in lime, but nothing official. Newspapers say not in lime, but quite close to it.

Royalite No. 9 is in limestone, this offsets Spooner No. 1. This site very favorable.

Home No. 2 is believed to be within 150 feet of Dalhousie 5. Sand where heavier production is expected. Production on the upper sand is thought to be around 30 barrels.

Vancouver, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—London Ribstone, fifteen foot in coarse oil sand with good saturation at 2,121 to 2,135 feet. It will take two weeks to rim hole to size for setting 8¼ inchest casing and two weeks further for the cement to set. Plenty of good formation and space between oil sand and any possible upper water sands to make good shut-off. There is possibly much greater depth of present sand, and possibly bigger and better ones deeper, but this is very satisfactory. The gravity tests will be made by Tuesday.

N.Y. Market Gossip

New York, June 26.—A. M. Byers' earnings for the quarter ending June 30 are expected to show considerable improvement over those of the preceding two quarters. Although this year's earnings are being currently charged with the cost of experimental work incidental to the development of the Aston Process, they are expected to make favorable comparison with those of last year, which were not similarly charged until the end of the year. Prices for wrought iron pipe have held up much better than those for steel pipe and the margin of profit has remained satisfactory. Because of the control of the Aston Process, "ABY" offers unusual possibilities over the long pull and we would advise its purchase on any slight recession.

Commonwealth Power & Light declared a quarterly dividend of seventy-five cents per share, thus placing the issue on a $3 annual basis as against $2.50 per share previously paid. The company continues to report increasing earnings. For the twelve months ended May 31, 1928, the net income after all charges amounted to $4.83 per share on the 1,495,503 shares of no par common stock, which compares with $3.86 per share for the corresponding period of the preceding year. "CMP" offers attractive long pull possibilities and we would recommend its accumulation on any reaction.

Willys-Overland has again joined the ranks of dividend payers through the authorization of a payment of thirty cents per share on the common stock, payable August 1 to stockholders of record July 18. This is the first dividend that has been declared since late in 1920, when the rate on the common stock was $1 a share per year. The company is doing a record business, and when market conditions become more settled, the stock will probably have an upward move.

Postum Company's stockholders have approved an increase in the authorized stock to 5,000,000 shares from 2,000,000. This will provide for a 100 per cent stock dividend as well as the issuance of 350,000 shares of the new stock for the acquisition of the Check-Neal Coffee Company, producers of Maxwell House Coffee, and leaves the balance for further acquisition. Postum has expended rapidly but soundly, and the company has many years of growth ahead of it. Would accumulate the stock on scale down.

Consolidated Railroad of Cuba preferred is currently obtainable at prices yielding almost eight per cent. A cash reserve has been set up to provide for the $6 dividend for the full year 1928 and when market conditions warrant "CCU" is likely to score a sharp advance.

TORONTO MINES GOSSIP

Toronto, June 26. (By R. F. Castle).—The station on the 375-foot level of Malartic Mines is now being completed. Cross-cutting is expected to be under way this week.

Toronto, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—It is unofficially announced that Teck Hughes are clearing a site for a new 3,000-foot shaft to be put down 400 feet south of the main shaft. Teck Hughes was one of the strong spots in yesterday's market, when the stock moved to close at 10.75 to 10.80, showing a 20-point gain.

Toronto, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—According to The Mail and Empire, a statement was issued last night by President Murdoch confirming the rumor that the cross-cut at 850-foot level of Noranda had already extended 33 feet into the "H" ore body with the same high values prevailing as on the 975, namely 850 to the ton. A second drill hole is being put further 50 feet to the north along the cross-cut and has already gone in 82 feet with no reduction in the value of the ore.

Toronto, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—It is reported unofficially that Barry did not cut any ore on the 1,250. Noranda is featuring the mining market on bull news put out by the president this morning, which we carried in our bulletin. Wall Street market is irregular. Radio 173, General Motors 172½, Nickel 91, Brazilian 54½. Noranda buying in Toronto is general.

MANITOBA PAS MINES

Toronto, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—The Manitoba Pas Mines Limited, capitalized at 5,000,000 shares no par value, of which 2,000,000 have been issued for the property, has recently been incorporated to undertake the development of a Cold Lake property comprising some 850 acres. The property lies approximately two miles north of Sherritt Gordon ore body and adjoins on the southern boundary the Cree Group belonging to Sherritt Gordon. One million shares have been allotted for public offering.

SNOWFLAKE

Vancouver, June 26 (By R. F. Castle)—Snowflake Mining Company Limited, listed on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, capitalization $1,250,000, par 50 cents, about 1,400,000 shares issued. Situated 19 miles east of Revelstoke and 2 miles west of Albert Canyon station, C.P.R. About 75,000 tons concentrating ore has been developed. The company reports it is fuly financed and not likely to issue any more treasury stock. A large party is at mine now on inspection.

"We expect a further report on their return," Solloway and Mills say.

BULLS STILL LOOK FOR HIGHER MARKET

New York, June 26.—B. C. Forbes, commenting on the stock market outlook to-day says:

"My own limited investigations reveal that the most of the powerful bull operators still cling to the belief that stocks will find higher levels. True, they were taken aback by the swiftness and seriousness of the relapse, but they argue that conditions are just as favorable as they ever were."

The Penny Princess

By ANNE AUSTIN — Copyright 1928

"I didn't have a chance to say anything else and neither did she, but she turned at the door and smiled at me and waved. Gee, I was glad to see her. But what I can't figure out is why that Vivian Crandall used Vera's name, unless they were friends or something and—why, Jerry, is that why Vee-Vee had herself all fixed up to look just like Vivian Crandall? We girls have all been talking about it—how much our Vee-Vee looks like Vivian Crandall. Do you suppose she did it on purpose, so that heiress could use her name and pretend to be Vee-Vee, just to fool people and get a rest from the reporters and everything."

"I imagine you are right, Rosemary," Jerry pounced upon her explanation. "I bet those two girls have been having a lark," he chuckled. "But the lark hasn't turned out so well for the poor little rich girl who wanted to be just common folks, has it? She couldn't put it over, poor kid! And now she's God knows where, at the mercy of kidnappers. But I suppose the Crandall millions will get her out of it, all right."

When they had talked a few minutes longer, Rosemary suddenly developed an urgent necessity to communicate her news to a new audience. Jerry watched her trip out of the office on a pretext, knew exactly what she would do, and wished that he could help her do it. Within half an hour every employe of the Peach Bloom Company would be told that Rosemary Fitch had seen Vera Cameron, had talked to her and knew to a certainty that it was the real Vivian Crandall who had been staying at the Minnetonka, using Vee-Vee's name and getting herself kidnapped.

Jerry Macklyn held himself rigidly to his desk all that day, not even leaving the office for lunch lest a telephone call which he was more than half expecting and ardently praying for would come and find him gone. It came at 4 o'clock, when he had almost given up hope. Rosemary was out of the office, as she had been most of the day, gossiping with other employes about the sensational kidnapping of Vivian Crandall, who had so strangely used Vera Cameron's name, so Jerry answered the phone himself.

"Mr. Macklyn?" a low, pleasant voice—the voice of a cultured woman—came clearly over the wire.

"Yes, this is Mr. Macklyn," Jerry answered, his heart knocking against his ribs.

"I am calling in reference to an advertising booklet, published by your firm. I was given your name by your switchboard operator as the advertising manager of the Peach Bloom Company," the low voice went on firmly, without a quiver.

"Good girl! A thoroughbred!" Jerry applauded her silently. Then aloud he said, "That is correct. I am the advertising manager of the Peach Bloom Company. Is there anything I can do for you, Miss—?"

"I am going to make a rather extraordinary request of you, Mr. Macklyn," the cool, musical voice went on. "If you are the author of the booklet, 'The Modern Story of an Ugly Duckling,' I feel sure you will understand without any further explanation on my part. My request is that you meet me as quickly as possible in my apartment, No. — East 181st Street, the Bronx, Apartment No. 4-B. Ring the bell three short rings. Do you understand?"

"Perfectly," Jerry assured her, and a click of the receiver at the other end of the line was his answer.

"Whew!" Jerry sank back in his chair. "Jerry, my boy, you've got the biggest job of your life ahead of you! And I don't even knew whether it's etiquette to kiss a princess' hand or to smack her on both cheeks, like that Frog general did when he pinned a medal on me in France."

Jerry knew his Bronx. He had been born on Rivington Street, on the lower East Side, had fought his way up-town with fists and brain, bringing his mother with him and establishing her in a decent home in the Bronx, which had seemed like Paradise to him after the pushcart district in which he had passed the first thirteen years of his very active life. His mother was dead now, and Jerry's $25,000 a year as one of New York's cleverest advertising men could not buy her any of the luxuries he had promised her when he was a boastful, fighting, ambition-ridden little red-headed "Irisher."

The address which Vivian Crandall—he had not slightest doubt that it was she—had given him was only two blocks from the flat building in which his mother had died six years ago. It was like coming home to get out of the familiar subway station, to pall the same old cigar store and "sea food" restaurant. But why was Vivian Crandall living in a neighborhood like this? Decent enough, but peopled by the big families of low-salaried men. The sidewalks were crowded with perambulators pushed by stout, placid-looking women of all ages, ambling from shop to shop, buying provisions for dinner.

In spite of the heat and the noise and the overcrowdedness of it, Jerry loved it all, for it had been home to him for ten years—the happiest ten years of his life. He sniffed the mingled odors of overripe fruit, wilting vegetables, fresh-baked bread, and fish—tons of fish, offered for Friday's dinner—and found them sweet in his nostrils.

The building which he sought was a four-story "walk-up" flat house; that is to say there was no elevator and no doorman. Certainly a most amazing place for a Crandall to live, if she did live here! He scanned the four-row battery of bells and mail boxes, found the "4-B" easily enough, and read the card in the little slot below the number, as he pressed the bell three times. "Craig" was the one word on the card, neatly lettered in ink. So she was Miss Craig here! Odd how those assuming an alias instinctively retain their initials. Crandall—Craig!

"Now, if she's just called herself Callahan, I know I'd like that woman, princess or no princess," Jerry grinned to himself, as the automatic "clicker" in the inside door of the vestibule told him that his ring was being answered.

He bounded up the first flight of stairs. By the time he had reached the fourth floor he was not bounding, but walking rather slowly, dragging a little at the handrail.

"Too many elevators in your life, Jerry, my boy!" he told himself ruefully. "Maybe the princess came here to reduce."

He pressed the bell on the door of apartment 4-B.

CHAPTER XXXVII

For an instant after the door was opened to him, Jerry Macklyn felt an absurd conviction that he was gazing upon Vera Victoria Cameron as she had been before he had conceived his disastrous scheme of transforming her into a beauty. But it was for an instant only. For the woman who was searching his face unsmilingly was neither like the old Vera nor the new, and yet strangely reminiscent of both of them. Her hair, a dark, gleaming coppery red, was parted in the middle and brushed smoothly toward the ears, where twin braids were coiled like small wheels and pinned close to the head.

Her complexion was flawless in its even pallor, unrelieved by rouge, but like the old Vee-Vee's, her eyes were disguised behind large, horn-rimmed spectacles with amber-tinted lenses.

"How do you do, Miss Craig?" he said. He was careful to leave the initiative to her. The name on her bell was "Craig" and that was what he would call her until she chose to give him permission to address her by her real name.

"Come in, Mr. Macklyn," she directed him gravely.

"I rent the place furnished," she explained negligently, in her low, impersonal, but musical voice. A voice not unlike Vee-Vee's, he decided, except for its faint flavor of blended Continental accents. "Mr. Macklyn, do you know why I sent for you?" she asked abruptly.

"I believe I do," Jerry smiled at her. He could not feel ill at ease with her. She seemed too much like the girl he loved to be a stranger to him. "You are Vivian Crandall, of course. I had been expecting word from you all day, ever since my secretary told me this morning that she had seen Miss Cameron in the subway. I knew of course that she had not seen Miss Cameron but you."

"Ah!" Vivian Crandall raised the enchanting eyebrows which Jerry had used as a model for the new Vee-Vee's brows. "You are disarmingly frank, Mr. Macklyn. I suppose I may as well remove these horrid glasses? I am really not myself at all with them on," and she lifted them from her nose and dropped them to the Queen Anne table with a little grimace of distaste.

"So I am really like this mysterious double of mine, this girl who has been so unfortunate as to be kidnapped while she was playing the adventuress?" Vivian Crandall drawled.

"She is not an adventuress, she has not posed as Vivian Crandall, and she is in danger of her life through no fault of her own," Jerry leaned forward and frowned.

"I suppose it is an accident also that she has a haircut exactly like the one I wore home from Paris, the one I have worn in all my recent photographs and in the portrait that was painted in Paris this Spring?"

"No, it was not an accident," Jerry answered honestly, his face flushing darkly. "If you'll be patient with me, I can explain the whole situation in a few words—account for that booklet that Miss Fitch gave you on the subway this morning."

Vivian Crandall drew the booklet from beneath a sofa cushion and sat regarding the photographs of her double with broodingly intent eyes while Jerry made his straightforward explanation, taking all the blame upon himself and absolving Vee-Vee so carefully that when he had finished his audience lifted her lovely head and smiled deeply into his eyes.

"You're very much in love with her, aren't you, Jerry Macklyn? Lucky girl!"

"I am," he answered honestly. "And I don't mind telling you that I'd rather lock you in this apartment and keep you prisoner than to let you endanger her life by informing the police and the press that you are safe and that the kidnapped girl is an impostor."

"I don't blame you," she smiled, and a faraway look came into her eyes. "I know what it means to love like that. Do you think that if I had meant to go to the police I would have sent for you? You have not asked me why I am here, or why my parents have been so foolish as to put detectives on my trail, dragging your poor little sweetheart into the net that they set for me."

"No," Jerry shook his head. "And I won't ask you. I have no right. I am sure that your reasons are good ones, or they would not be yours."

"You are a very gallant gentleman, Jerry Macklyn," Vivian Crandall smiled at him.

"You'll remain hidden then, and let your parents pay ransom for the wrong girl, if the kidnapers demand ransom, as they undoubtedly will?" Jerry demanded.

"More than that," Vivian Crandall answered firmly, "I shall try to help you find her, and to protect her from the consequences of her only sin—that of looking like me. She really looks like me—a great deal like me, I mean?" she asked, a note of anxiety in her voice.

"If your hair was cut like hers, like yours was when that portrait of you was made, you'd pass for twins," Jerry assured her.

"Excuse me a moment," Vivian smiled, and left the room.

He was wretched again with anxiety for the girl he adored and who was even then undergoing only God knew what tortures at the hands of beasts to whom the word mercy was unknown. Then he looked up at the sound of a light footstep and thought that he was gazing at the very girl for whom his heart was constricted with agony.

The coiled braids of copper-colored hair which had covered Vivian Crandall's aristocratic ears were gone. Her short hair, brushed back from her broad, white brow, swirled across her small head in the fashion which had not long ago startled Paris into an ecstasy of admiration.

"Judas Priest!" Jerry breathed.

"I suppose that settles it," Vivian Crandall smiled at him. "We will concede the resemblance without further argument. Those braids, saved from my first bob—and what a funny, long bob it was!—have been very useful in transforming the Princess Vivian into a demure little working girl. But I think the tinted spectacles have been even more useful. Now, Jerry Macklyn, let's get down to business. You want to rescue your lady fair in true knightly fashion, don't you?" she teased him.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Billie's Run

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

When Bully No Tail, the frog boy, hopped into the Hollow Stump School late that morning Uncle Wiggily was with him, and when Bully drew a puzzle picture on the blackboard all the children looked at it in surprise.

"What did you say the puzzle riddle was, Bully?" asked Miss Mouse.

"The puzzle is to guess why that boy is like a clock," croaked Bully. For it was the picture of a real boy—and not an animal, that the late frog had drawn on the blackboard.

"Oh, I think I can guess" crowed Charlie Chick, the rooster boy, raising one wing.

"Why?" asked Miss Mouse, and she was so interested that she forgot all about marking Bully late, which was what the frog boy hoped would happen. "Why is Bully's picture boy like a clock, Charlie."

"Because he's late," crowed Charlie, though Bully wished the rooster chap hadn't said that.

"Is that the right answer, Bully?" squeaked Miss Mouse, and still she didn't mark the frog boy late.

"No'm, if you please," croaked Bully. "Maybe I'd better tell the answer. The picture boy is like a clock 'cause he has TWO HANDS and a FACE."

"Oh, why didn't I guess that?" exclaimed Baby Bunty. "It was so easy!"

"It was easy after Bully told us," Miss Mouse said with a smile as she shook a little chalk dust off her tail.

to get some acrons off the oak trees to play marbles with.

"Why are you running, Billie?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Because the Bob Cat's coming!" bleated the goat boy.

"Oh, my goodness! Then we'd all better run in school!" cried the Lady Mouse. Toward the school they all ran. Uncle Wiggily running last to tickle the Bob Cat if he got too close.

Inside the school the Lady Mouse put her paw over her lips, as a signal for silence, and then she made on the blackboard the puzzle picture you see here. She made it for Uncle Wiggily, who came in last, and the bunny gentleman knew at once what it meant. Do you? Can you read what it says? If you can and if the automobile doesn't run so fast that it gets all out of breath and has to take air out of a tire. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily playing croquet.

Billy Wagtail came running.

"But, now that Uncle Wiggily is here perhaps he will give us a lesson in how to tell a story about his adventures."

"With pleasure," answered the old rabbit gentleman with a pinkie of his left ear. So he began to tell a story and then Bully knew he was safe from being marked late. The story was about a Big Bear who used to chase all the Little Bears away from a honey tree that grew in the woods. Never would the Big Bear let the Little Bears come near enough the tree to gather any honey.

And at last one of the Little Bears growled to the others:

"If we all ran together at the Big Bear and bit him and scratched him and clawed him, maybe he would let us alone so we could have some sweet honey to eat. Shall we try?"

"Oh, yes, let's all try together!" said another Little Bear.

So the next day as Uncle Wiggily told the story, when the Big Bear started to chase the Little Bears away from the honey tree, all of a sudden they rushed toward him, knocked him down on the ground and clawed, bit and scratched him so hard that strong as he was, the Big Bear was glad enough to run away. Then the Little Bears had all the honey they wanted.

"Oh, that was a fine story," said Susie Littletail. "Please tell us another, Unkie Wig."

"We haven't time now," squeaked the Lady Mouse Teacher. "It is the hour for recess. After that—perhaps—well, we shall see."

The animal boys and girls had fun playing in the school yard. Then, just before it was time for the class bell to ring, all of a sudden Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, came running fast back from the edge of the woods near the school. Billie had gone to the woods

TOLMIE SPEAKS IN NORTH B.C.

Conservative Leader Addresses Meetings at Burns Lake and Houston

Burns Lake, B.C., June 26—Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Provincial Conservative leader, addressed mid-day election campaign meeting here yesterday.

He said Premier MacLean had been attacking the Conservative policy of making a careful survey of resources and opportunities of the Province. Dr. Tolmie said he wished to point out that C. S. Leary, a Liberal member of the last Legislature, had predicted the cutting of the last big timber of the Coast within a quarter of a century. The salmon run—another factor in the past prosperity of the Province—was declining. Was it not time and good business to proceed with the future development of British Columbia along sane and scientific lines, to build up something more substantial than magic lantern prosperity? he asked.

"No good doctor would prescribe for a patient unless he had a careful and thorough examination," he went on. "We propose to examine carefully into the condition of British Columbia and prescribe treatment we believe will be necessary to give permanent prosperity. Surely it is time we made a thorough examination of this Province."

SPOKE AT HOUSTON

A 200-mile drive from Smithers to Vanderhoof, was made by Dr. Tolmie. Besides Burns Lake, he spoke at Houston.

BAPTIST LEADERS ARE CRITICIZED

Toronto, June 26—Speaking at a convention of "regular Baptists" held in the Jarvis Street Baptist Church here last night, Dr. C. P. Sealey, editor of The Southern Baptist Trumpet, declared the modernists in the Baptist Church to-day were using the methods of Rome to quell agitation for the truth and he saw a fresh menace in the Baptist World Congress, now being held here. He admitted there were thousands of Christian men gathered at the congress, but added: "Many rotten apples flavor the whole barrel and those who have come from lands where they have endured persecution for the sake of Christianity will be misled."

Professor L. H. Marshall of McMaster University, Toronto, was criticized by Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, whom he accused of committing a greater falsehood than could "issue from hell itself," in his (Professor Marshall's) declaration that he stood with that famous Baptist minister, Spurgeon of London, Eng., on the substitutionary atonement.

Dr. Shields expressed pleasure and satisfaction at being excluded from the proceedings of the Baptist World Congress, though he made clear his belief that the regular Baptists should have been represented.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the fifty years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for fifty years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore. (Advt.)

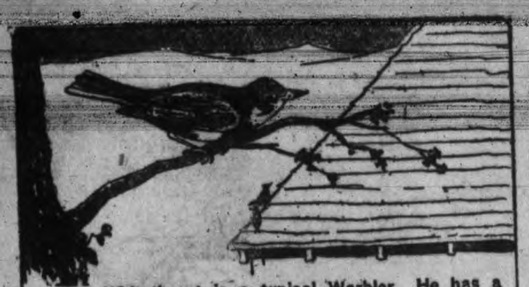
Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Bessey. Synopsis by Braucher.

WARBLERS



The Whitethroat is a typical Warbler. He has a little warcry with which he tries to scare people when he sets up housekeeping in their gardens because he considers that territory his own. His song is mostly sweet, however, though it can be harsh as the croak of a frog when he is displeased. The artist has sketched a Whitethroat above.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

The American Redstart is one of the most beautiful of the Warblers with its mingled plumage of orange, black and white.

Here are sketched a family of Reed Warblers and their young. The little birds have tremendous appetites.

Wood Wrens are Warblers, as is the lovely Golden-crested Wren. Wood Wrens are jolly little singers. The fine song of the River Warbler has been likened to the chirping of a grasshopper. The Firecrest and Rubycrest of South America rival the Goldcrest of Europe in gorgeousness. A Sedge Warbler is sketched above. (To Be Continued)

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1928

Good and evil planetary influences contend to-day, according to astrology. As the day advances benefic aspects dominate.

Under this planetary government the early morning is likely to be a time when dissatisfaction is voiced and quarrels started.

Men may be especially irritable at breakfast, but they will recover their poise after midday.

Initiative should be delayed until there is a more favorable rule of the stars. A week hence the stars will smile on new ventures. This is read as a fairly lucky wedding day, although it may lead to family differences of opinion.

The bride of to-day is likely to rule her husband and to administer their joint affairs successfully.

There is an encouraging sign for those who must borrow money. Bankers may be less forbidding to-day than they are at other times.

Because of the strong occult influences dimly discerned by the average person the desire for amusement that prevents thinking or reaching out toward the unknown will be widely prevalent all through the Summer.

Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid speculation in the coming year. They will be lucky in love and in business.

Children born on this day probably will be extremely ambitious, they should be taught the value of caution.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?

A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhoea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses. (Advt.)

SAANICH CUTS IRRIGATION

Secession Prospect Delays Enlarged Water Supply

Irrigationists to Lose Daytime Privileges

Saanich irrigationists and greenhouse owners will no longer be permitted to use water in the daytime, following approval by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council of a by-law given preliminary readings last night by the Saanich Council.

The new restrictions will apply to all parts of Saanich except two small high level areas. These cannot affect the pressure generally maintained in the municipal waterworks system.

Increase in Victoria of consumption of water by industrial and domestic users was stated to have been rapid in recent months. The council was assured that protests to the city against lower pressure given Saanich, had been met with declarations that improvement could not be given. The pressure at the Saanich intakes, supposed to be 140 pounds, has greatly fallen off in recent months, Engineer Allan reported last week only 103 pounds had been available, while yesterday the pressure fell below 100 pounds.

DAILY FAMINE

Councillor G. F. Watson of Ward Three called attention to the daily water famine in the higher levels of Saanich. He favored total elimination during daytime of all irrigation in any part of Saanich. The existing by-laws prohibit irrigation between 7 and 9 a.m. and 5 and 7 p.m., and Councillor Watson urged these should be amended to prohibit use between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. "Domestic users must receive consideration before irrigators," Councillor Watson protested.

The council unanimously supported a by-law superseding existing restrictions and prohibiting daytime irrigation, except in two small high level areas. The measure will come into effect each year on May 15 and be in operation until Septmeber 15, and will be operative when approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

SECESSION FEARS

Uncertainty as to continued unity of Saanich was last night ascribed as cause of refusal, by the council, to replace over a mile of two-inch water main on Wilkinson Road with a six-inch main. The water committee had recommended tabling a petition for the improved service, and Reeve Crouch, in explanation, showed that the work, if undertaken at once, would be of no value to the larger water users this year.

Reeve Crouch said that the water committee had been satisfied that the expenditure was not at present justified. The district benefited might be severed from the Saanich waterworks system a few weeks after completion of the replacement at heavy expense.

The action of the water committee was approved and the proposed replacement shelved for the time being.

GOODWIN MAY GET NEW TRIAL

The committee in charge of the case has been given an extension of time for filing the brief and the formalities relative to a new trial will be completed within a week.

POLA NEGRI STARS IN "THREE SINNERS" ON CAPITOL SCREEN

Incontestably proving herself once again the greatest tragic actress on the screen to-day, Pola Negri showed at the Capitol Theatre last night in her latest starring picture for Paramount, "Three Sinners," directed by Rowland V. Lee.

Opening in her home in Dresden, where she is happy in her love for husband and child, rushing events carry her to supposed death, renunciation of her home and child, depths of horror and glittering sin in a Paris gambling palace and eventually to genuine love.

The stage specialties at the Capitol Theatre this week are exceptionally fine and present quite a varied entertainment. Among those present are Bidwell and Rice, a comedy singing and instrumental novelty act, Jacquiline Griffith, a clever violinist, who can also dance and sing; and Biles and Gold, the Goofy Collegiate Steppers, present a snappy and fast dance divertisement. The concert orchestra and Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C., are also on the bill again this week.

No one in the world can look so "hard boiled," menacing and utterly malevolent as this Lon Chaney—and no one can look so sympathetic in the very same role, as this selfsame Lon. He is the enigma of the screen. For instance, in his latest vehicle, "The Big City," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational romance of New York underworld life, now playing at the Dominion Theatre, Chaney plays one of the most dangerous characters in the world.

He plays a gangster leader, using a cabaret as a cloak to his sinister activities, his "moll," operating a clearing house for stolen goods, hiding this under the guise of a little costume shop. In this setting is introduced a little shopgirl, innocent of the true nature of the pair; to her they are good friends—and her belief in them precipitates a climax as amazing as it is heart-gripping.

COMEDIENNE QUEEN PLAYS AT COLUMBIA IN RIOTOUS FARCE

An avalanche of riotous humor combined with the beautiful charms of Madge Bellamy, came to the Columbia Theatre for a three days' run starting Monday. This ace of comedy-drama entertainment is Fox Films "Soft Living," a modern tale of love, marriage and the alimony question.

Cast in the stellar role of this production, Madge Bellamy again proves that she is the queen of all screen comediennes. Miss Bellamy not only has a wealth of natural beauty, but combines intelligence, understanding and real artistry in her work.

TELLS VIVID STORY WOMAN MUST PAY AS WAR'S AFTERMATH

War and its horrors have been translated to the screen in many forms; the surge and thunder of battle has been depicted in great spectacles; the side of the soldier told in "The Big Parade," but to Lillian Gish has fallen the task of telling the side of those who, perhaps, suffer most but whose side has never before been presented—the side of the women who face starvation, grief and moral disintegration as a side issue in the struggles of nations.

Such is her message in "The Enemy," Metro-Goldyn-Mayer's graphic depiction of Channing Pollock's famous stage drama, a story of war and life on the battlefield.

The stage presentation at the Coliseum this week is Bostock and Peggie, a clever dancing team who offer a variety of dances, called "Little Steps From Big Dances. The Coliseum Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Lou Turner, has arranged a special musical setting for the feature, "The Enemy" that fits the picture perfectly. A special overture is played in the intermission entitled "The King's Lieutenant."

GREAT CLIMAX SHOWN IN MURDER MYSTERY STORY AT VARIETY

Two men, life-long friends, are in a room alone. One is murdered by a mysterious shot. A smoking revolver is found on the floor. The other man is unable to say where the shot came from. Circumstantial evidence convicts him of the murder and he is sentenced to die, an innocent man.

This is the whirlwind start of the sensational plot of "Held By the Law," the murder-mystery picture now thrilling patrons of the Variety Theatre.

UPROARIOUS COMEDY, "THE GAY RETREAT," NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Sammy Cohen, eccentric screen comedian, has deserted the marines and joined the ambulance corps in "The Gay Retreat," Fox Films uproarious comedy of the late war.

Sammy, who plays the part of Sam Nosenblum in this production, started his military career as Private Lepinsky in "What Price Glory," Fox Films great war epic. He claims the main difference in the two branches of the service, pictorially speaking, is that a man can get into more trouble in the ambulance corps than in the marines.

"The Gay Retreat," which is showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is adapted from an original story by William Conselman and Edward Marshall. It is filled with laughs from the first flash to the last, with not a few thrills thrown in for good measure.

Keating

Keating, June 26.—The June meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute took place in the institute room at the Temperance Hall, the president, Mrs. H. Lawrie, being in the chair. The financial statement of the recent Island District Conference held at Duncan was read by the secretary, Mrs. Styan. The traveling library was recently returned to Victoria, and it was decided not to renew the library. The institute will send a donation of strawberries to the Solarium again this year. Summer social activities were discussed and the members planned to hold a picnic on Saturday, August 4, the place to be decided at the July meeting. The annual picnic with the Farmers' Institute and the entertainment for the junior members were also discussed, it being decided to hold the latter event in the Fall. An effort will be made to have Miss McLennigan of the Domestic Science branch to address the members at the July meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames H. Lawrie, Styan and P. Young.

The Farmers' Institute of South Saanich met for the June meeting in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening. W. D. Michell presided and there was a fair attendance of members. In the unavoidable absence of Mr. Tice, the speaker for the evening was Mr. Travis of the Department of Agriculture, who gave an instructive address on various weeds.

The prize winners in the loganberry crop competition were announced as follows: First, J. J. Young; second, H. Sherring; third, W. Holloway.

The presentation of prizes to the winners of the strawberry and loganberry crop competitions took place, the first prizes in each competition being donated by George Spencer, the secretary, the winner of the strawberry competition receiving a beautiful silver cup, while the first prize for logans was a beautiful silver fruit dish. Second and third prizes in each class were silver spoons, given by the institute. Mr. Michell made the presentation, and the strawberry crop winners were as follows: First, W. Holloway; second, J. N. Wood; third, H. Sherring.

Plans were commenced for the annual joint picnic with the Women's Institute, to be held later in the Summer. Refreshments were served by the Women's Institute at the close of the meeting.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Club of the South Saanich United Church took the form of a bonfire party and was held at Island View Beach. There was a good attendance and after the business session games and refreshments were enjoyed around the fire, the social committee, Mrs. Bates and Miss Blanch Sherring, having prepared hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee. During the business meeting, which was conducted by the president, A. Hafer, a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the social conveners for their work during the last six months. Miss Bertha Snyder was appointed to assist Miss Alma Heyer on the social committee for the remainder of the year. A report of the recent conference held at Duncan by the Young People has been received and will be read and discussed at the first meeting in July. The committee, previously appointed to arrange committee for a new fourfold programme to commence in September, will meet in the near future and will present their report in August.

Mrs. Blaine of Seattle has returned home after visiting her father, D. Russell, Giles Road.

PALESTINE FUND

London, June 26—The Jews of the United States were pledged yesterday to raise annually a minimum of $3,000,000 to make up for the next five years the annual budget for the rebuilding of Palestine as a Jewish national home, in accordance with the terms of the mandate of the League of Nations entrusted to Great Britain.

Peel Your Skin To Natural Beauty

To give your skin that natural appearance of clear, unblemished loveliness, use daily a little pure mercolized wax. Procure an ounce from your druggist and use as directed. The wax gradually absorbs the coarse, faded or discolored film skin in almost invisible particles. Soon the under skin is revealed clear, velvety-soft and girlish. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and restore facial contour, use as an astringent, one ounce powdered saxolite and one half-pint witch hazel. (Advt.)
